POPULACE MOURNS DEAD ARCHDUKE BODIES ARE CONVEYED TO TRIESTE METKOKITCH ASSUMES FUNERAL GARB

Impressive Service Held on Warship—Banks of River Lined for Miles With Kneeling People Who Pay Respect to Royal Dead of House of Hapsburg

Metkokitch, Herzegovina, June 30.—The bodies of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg, were brought here on a special train at 6 o'clock this morning from Sarayevo, Bosnia. They were accompanied by the members of the household. The town was draped in black, while all the lamp posts were covered with crepe. Flags on all buildings flew at half-mast. Guards of honor from the army and navy were drawn up along the platform and behind them were gathered the local authorities, the school children of the town and a dense crowd of citizens.

The coffins were removed from the cars by bluejackets, and after a prayer by a priest were conveyed amid the roll of muffled drums and the tolling of church bells to the royal yacht Dalmat, lying in the river. They were covered with military flags and wreaths, while on the yacht were hundreds of floral offerings from military and naval officers and civilians.

As the yacht left, the guard of honor fired a general salute. The vessel was preceded down the river by a torpedo boat, and followed by the governor's yacht, on board of which were the members of the households of the Archduke and Duchess. The governor also accompanied the bodies while they remained in the waters of his territory.

Every village and hamlet along the River Narenta was draped in mourning and their populations, headed by the municipal officials and clergy, assembled along the banks, the men and women bearing lighted candles and kneeling while the yacht passed. At the same time the church bells tolled and the priests uttered blessings.

When the Dalmat reached the mouth of the river it proceeded directly to the battleship Viritbus Unitis, which was lying at anchor waiting to convey the bodies to Trieste. The yacht fired a salute of nineteen guns as she came alongside the battleship. The caskets were then transferred to the after-deck of the Viritbus Units, which had been transformed into a mortuary chapel decorated with flags. Here the bodies were again blessed with much ceremony by the ship's chaplain in the presence of the members of the household and the naval officers, while the crew was drawn up in a circle around them.

The Viritbus Unitis weighed anchor at 9 o'clock, and sailed northward with the archducal standard flying at half-mast.

The battleship is proceeding slowly toward Trieste, so as to allow the court officials in Vienna time to make preparations for the funeral.

The vessel will arrive on Wednesday evening and the bodies will be taken ashore on Thursday and conveyed on gun carriages through troop-lined streets on their way to Vienna.

ASSASSINATION FOLLOWED BY ANTI-SERVIAN RIOTS IN MANY PARTS OF AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

London, June 30.—The tragedy that has befallen the ill-fated House of Hapsburg, according to news reaching London, was the result of a carefully-prepared Servian nationalist plot in revenge for the annexation of Bosnio and Herzegovina, which defeated the dreams and aspirations of creating a greater Servia. The assassins of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife have confessed that the plot was matured at Belgrade. The terrible event is only another illustration of how well justified is the anxiety always present in the minds of European politicians and diplomatists about the unstable conditions prevailing in the Balkans, and even in the dual monarchy.

Anti-Servian riots are occurring in various parts of Austria-Hungary, as well as at Garayeod.

Several hundred persons, including the Servian deputy, Athansasius Sola, were arrested during the rioting which lasted until martial law was declared. The mob divided itself into several groups which marched through the streets, every where wrecking and destroying the property of the Servians. Sola was arrested at Nevesinge and charged with inciting sedition.

The rioters consisted for the most part of Moslems of the lowest class. They looted shops, throwing the contents into the streets and invaded private dwellings. The residence of a rich Servian, Mr. Jestanovich, a member of the Bosnia diet and stepfather of the Servian minister to Russia, was pillaged and all the furniture of the Hotel Europe, belonging to Jestanovich was smashed. The hotel omnibus, carriages and sledges in the stable were damaged beyond repair. Jestanovich was arrested.

The mob wrecked another Servian-owned hotel, many other hotels, cafes and shops. A veritable panic was created and women threw themselves on the ground weeping hysterically. The police were powerless, while Servians were chased and maltreated. Some retorted by firing on the crowds. One man carrying a portrait of the German emperor was killed. Finally large detachments of troops were called out, and martial law was proclaimed.

The London Express has received a remarkable letter, written on paper bearing the crest of the imperial crown of Austria, addressed from Kensington and signed by Rudolf, prince imperial of Austria-Hungary, who was supposed to have committed suicide. The writer condoles with his father and declares that the writer still exists, and that the fact is known in the highest circles of Austria.

The correspondent declares that he quarrelled with his father. It was decided to give out the report that he committed suicide and he then went to Russia. He lived a while with Tolstoi in retirement. Two years after the murder of the empress he came to England.

Paris, June 30.—Miss Laura McDonald Stallo, daughter of Edmund K. Stallo, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Prince Francisco Rospigliosi, were married to-day at St. Joseph's church in the presence of a company of distinguished guests. Among those present were Ambassador and Mrs. Myron T. Herrick and Prince and Princess Murat, who is a sister of the bride.

Paterson, N. J., June 30.—Carlo Tresca, the I.W.W. leader, whose activity here during the great silk strike of a year ago, caused his indictment for advocating bodily injury and inciting to riot, was to-day again placed on trial. Tresca was tried at the time of the strike, but the jury failed to agree.

SUFFRAGISTS TOLD TO WIN SEPARATE STATES

President Wilson Tells Delegation His Passion is for Local Self-Government.

Washington, June 30.—More than 500 woman suffragists marched to the White House to-day, and demanded of President Wilson a definite statement of his position toward votes for women.

The president told the women that his passion is for local self-government, and that he believed every state should decide certain things for itself. He classed the right of suffrage among these things.

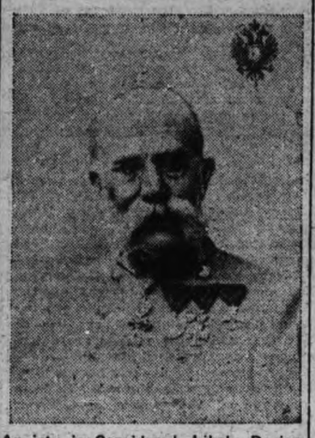
The president advised the women not to be discouraged, but to continue their fight in the various states. He added that he was deeply interested in the question.

Some women took small children with them to the White House, and throughout the speaking there were frequent wails and cries from babies.

MOUNTAIN FEUD IN ARKANSAS REVIVED

Paris, Ark., June 30.—The Huckleberry mountain feud, which has existed in this section of Arkansas for many years, was revived last night when Frank Rose, mountaineer, shot and killed Hobart Horn and probably fatally wounded Chatham Sherill. It is said Horn and Sherill attacked the Rose home. The officers have arrested all known factional leaders in the feud to prevent further trouble.

FRANCIS JOSEPH OF AUSTRIA REPORTED IN PERFECT HEALTH



Anxiety is Considered Likely During Rest of Aged Monarch's Reign.

Vienna, June 30.—Anxiety is considered likely to increase during the short period before the aged emperor, who alone is believed able to hold together the heterogeneous components of the Austrian-Hungarian empire, finally disappears from the scene. He has been displaying his customary strong character in the face of his latest bereavement and seems in excellent health.

The will of the late archduke was found and opened by Emperor Francis Joseph this evening. The archduke's children are to inherit their late father's estates in Bohemia and at Salzaburg and Arstetten. The rest of the estates, including the famous Villa Tivoli at Florence are to go to the new heir to the throne.

The news of the death of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg was broken to their children Sunday evening. The orphans broke down and their aunt, Countess Cholek fainted.

The Tagblatt to-day says the late archduke's life was insured with dutch companies for $12,000,000 and that of his wife for $6,000,000.

UPROAR IN CROTIAN DIET; SPEAKER HAS TO SUSPEND HOUSE

Agram, Crotia, June 30.—Denunciation by nationalist Crotians of a Catholic and Servian coalition in connection with the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort, led to a scene of violent tumult in the Crotian Diet to-day and the disturbance became so great that the speaker suspended the session.

Vitriolic threats filled the chamber. The Servian deputies were taunted with being murderers and were asked if they had brought their bombs with them.

HYDRO-AEROPLANE TO MAKE ATLANTIC TRIAL IS NOW AT ST. JOHNS

St. Johns, Nfld., June 30.—Preparations were made to-day for the work of assembling the hydro-aeroplane America in which Lieut. J. C. Porte, a former British naval officer, hopes to cross the Atlantic early in July.

Henry Gill, who arrived last night to make final arrangements for the flight and select the starting place, looked over the ground to-day.

NEW ORLEANS PLANS TO DRIVE OUT RATS

Outbreak of Bubonic Plague Causes Precautions to Be Adopted.

New Orleans, La., June 30.—State and city health authorities were astir to-day preparatory to the inauguration of the first wholesale campaign in the history of the south for the extermination of rats in order to prevent the spread of bubonic plague.

Two cases of the disease recently have been discovered in the industrial home of the Volunteers of America in New Orleans. One man died, another is ill and 28 inmates of the place have been isolated. With the home as a radius of a zone extending four blocks in every direction, the plans are for the construction of a concrete barrier around the entire area and for a rat drive toward the centre.

Des Moines, Ia., June 30.—Boards of health in cities along the Mississippi river were to-day expected to take immediate action to exterminate rats and to make bacteriological examinations of rats captured in accordance with telegraphic requests sent out by Lafayette Higgins, sanitary engineer of the Iowa board of health. This action is the result of a warning to the state board from Dr. Rupert Blue, of the national board of health at Washington, that suspected cases of bubonic plague have developed at New Orleans. There is a fear that rats carrying plague germs may make their way north on steamboats.

LORDS WILL TAKE UP AMENDING BILL NEXT

Debate Begins To-morrow After Much Unionist Running About

TEMPORARY PEACE NOW NECESSARY SAYS TIMES

London Paper Suggests Unionists Declare Themselves in Regard to Problem

BOER WAR OPPONENT FORMER MEMBER DEAD

London, June 30.—The debate in the House of Lords on the home rule amending bill begins to-morrow. There has been much running to and fro amongst the Unionist members to draft an amendment. Regarding these and the general action of the Unionist peers to-day's times offers more interesting editorial injunctions.

"It is absolutely vital that the Lord's amendments should be sufficient to secure temporary peace," declares the Times. "All these proposals can do is to make the best of a desperate situation by laying down the basis of a temporary truce. Everything is staked upon their acceptance by the country."

The Times proceeds to declare that it is absolutely certain that the Unionist leaders themselves will sooner or later have to take up the settlement of the Irish question.

"We should like, in short," says the Times, "to see the Unionist leaders make it clear that while condemning the Home Rule bill root and branch, and refusing altogether to accept it, they are prepared, as soon as ever they may be in a position to do so, to deal with the Irish problem as part and parcel of other outstanding problems by way of a general convention."

Former Member Dead.

Henry Joseph Wilson, Liberal member for Holmfirth, Yorkshire from 1885 to 1912, died to-day, aged 81. He was a strenuous opponent of the Boer war in the height of the war fever. The sincerity of his convictions, his public service and his benefactions commanded universal success.

Unionist Returned.

Roland Edmund Prothero, Unionist, was returned to-day unopposed to represent Oxford university, replacing Sir William Anson, deceased.

Mr. Prothero is agent-in-chief to the Duke of Bedford.

BURIAL GROUND BOUGHT FOR VICTIMS OF WRECK

C. P. R. Arranges Cemetery on Side of Slope Near Rimouski for Empress Dead.

Rimouski, Que., June 30.—A plot of ground on the side of the hills that overlook the St. Lawrence is being purchased by the C. P. R. near this village. Here all the unidentified bodies which may be recovered from the sunken Empress of Ireland will be interred. There will be a monument erected to the dead. Identification will be impossible, a careful description of the clothing, however, will be made, and should bodies be claimed their whereabouts will be known.

The body of Maude E. Smith, which was recovered has been shipped to Quebec where the C. P. R. will hold it awaiting instructions from the relatives or friends.

Two more bodies have been recovered by divers from the sunken hull of the liner Empress of Ireland. One was the body of a man aged about 30; the other of a little girl about seven years of age. Both bodies will be buried here. The C. P. R. has purchased a plot of land near Father Point as a cemetery for unidentified dead that may hereafter be removed.

Drogheda, Ireland, June 30.—The freedom of this city was to-day conferred on Archbishop John Glennon, of St. Louis, by the mayor and corporation. The members of the corporation presented the archbishop with a parchment scroll enclosed in a silver casket.

MEDIATION STOPS FOR MEXICANS' CONFERENCE

Zapata Rejects Allegiance to General Carranza—Death Toll at Battleground of Zacatecas Numbers About Nine Thousand Federals From Latest Reports

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 30.—After a conference to-day between Ambassador DaGama, of Brazil, and Ministers Naon and Suarez, it was announced that mediation would formally recess to-morrow until such time as the constitutionalist delegates and Huerta representatives could confer informally on Mexico's internal problems.

The mediators came to this decision after reading General Carranza's note asking for time to consult his generals as to the informal parleys.

Minister Suarez referred to the Carranza note as satisfactory and sensible in its explanation of the need for time. All the mediators and their secretaries began immediately to make plans for departing to-morrow or Thursday, and it is now expected that by the end of the week the entire mediation colony will have left here. No time has been set for reconvening of the mediators, but it is not believed they will gather again for another two or three weeks.

Mexico City, June 30.—News reached Mexico City to-day that Emiliano Zapata, the southern rebel, has published a decree rejecting allegiance to General Carranza and saying that the constitutionalist chief had resolved to accept the plan of Ayala, the original Agrarian proclamation of the southern leader.

Zapata is said to have declared that he intends to extend his operations along the western coast of Mexico as far as Sonora and that he will fight Carranza forever.

The information was brought to Mixico City by persons who arrived from towns under the control of the followers of Zapata in the state of Morelos.

Torreon, June 30.—Railroad men brought information to-day that General Medina Barron, commander of the federal garrison, defeated last Tuesday at Zacatecas, had reached Aguas Calientes with only fourteen men. General Barron was wounded in the thigh.

The body of General Olea, another federal commander has been found in the position his men occupied on the Zacatecas battlefield, according to report made to General Villa, who is here to-day. A son of General Barron, a major, also was killed.

The only group of federals which left Zacatecas in any order was one of about 200 men. All others fled panic-stricken. So far as it has been possible to ascertain, the federals who managed to escape the constitutionalists' fire numbered no more than 300.

The garrison consisted of from fourteen to fifteen thousand men. About five thousand men were taken prisoners.

The extensive battleground has made accurate figures difficult to secure. On the Guadalupe road leading to the city, some two thousand federals died, while more than 400 bodies were found in redoubts and trenches around the hill El Grillo.

JAPAN'S CASE IN CALIFORNIA LAND QUESTION HOPELESS

Tokio, June 30.—Takaaki Kato, the Japanese foreign minister, to-day announced that details of the treaty negotiations between Japan and the United States on the subject of the California alien land ownership legislation would not be published out of deference to a request of the United States government and also because the publication was deemed unnecessary.

The comment to-day of the more moderate among the leading newspapers unanimously expresses dissatisfaction with America, but following the cue given by the foreign minister, shows a disposition soberly to discuss the subject in the hope of enlightening instead of exciting the public.

The fear is expressed that Japan's case is hopeless and there is evidence of a strong feeling that the time has arrived to fix the status of Japanese subjects living abroad.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF VENEZUELAN MINISTER

Diplomatic Washington Attends Last Rites Held for Dr. Pedro Rojas.

Washington, June 30.—Funeral services for Dr. Pedro Ezequiel Rojas, Venezuelan minister, who died at Atlantic City were held here to-day. President Wilson, members of the cabinet, justices of the supreme court and practically the entire diplomatic corps attended. The cabinet meeting was cancelled.

Escorted by a battalion of engineers, a squadron of cavalry and the marine band, the body was taken from the legation to the church on a caisson. In addition to the president, Secretary Bryan, Secretary McAdoo, Secretary Redfield, Secretary Daniels and members of the senate foreign relations committee and the house foreign affairs committee attended the high mass, after which the body was taken to the Washington navy yard with the escort of troops, placed on the gunboat Dolphin and taken to Hampton Roads, to be transferred to the battleship Kansas and taken to Venezuela.

FIRED HONOR SALUTE WOUNDED SIX PEOPLE

Kansas City, Mo., June 30.—A shot that wounded six persons seated on the observation platform of an eastbound Burlington train near Liberty, Mo., last night, was an "honor salute" fired for the women on the platform, according to Fred Scudiero, twenty-four years old, who admitted to-day he fired it. He said he had no intention of injuring anyone, as he fired his shotgun in the air. His arrest followed the arrest of two companions, who with Scudiero, had been hunting near the scene.

Scudiero is held under a formal charge of investigation.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR CHINESE YOUTH

Unparalleled Cunning and Ferocity Marked Mrs. Millard's Death Says Judge

Vancouver, June 30.—At the close of the Vancouver assizes this morning Mr. Justice Gregory sentenced Jack Kong, the Chinese found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Charles J. Millard, to life imprisonment. Before sentence was passed Alexander Henderson K. C., for the defence, made a plea for leniency.

Mr. Justice Gregory replied:

"You had better address your remarks, Mr. Henderson, to the minister of justice.

To the prisoner the judge said: "While I personally feel that your crime was murder, the jury in their discretion found you guilty of manslaughter, and there certainly was evidence on which they might very properly have come to that conclusion. The parliament of Canada has fixed the extreme penalty for the crime of manslaughter at life imprisonment. After having considered the evidence, I cannot find any extenuating circumstances in the case which should lead me to impose a lesser penalty. On the contrary, I find that your crime was characterized by almost unparalleled cunning and ferocity. The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the penitentiary for the term of your natural life."

Other sentences at the assizes were: Nick Cobett and Dominic Savall, attempted murder, 5 years in the penitentiary; Alex. Yossitz, attempted murder, 2 years and 6 months; Henry Glasson, attempted murder, 3 years and 6 months; Donato Debonas, wounding, 3 years and 6 months; Harvey Lamotte Virgil, manslaughter by automobile, 2 years and 6 months; Charles Whitem, wounding with intent, 3 years and 6 months; A. J. Smith, conspiracy to defraud, 4 years; Shajoo Ram, perjury, 5 years; Fred Williams, indecent assault on child, 2 years and 14 lashes; Thomas Papas, offence against morals, 5 years; Hames Valse, offence against morals, 5 years; Richard Wallace, passing worthless banknote, 2 years and 6 months; Joe Rasselli, wounding, 18 months hard labor; James Turner, false pretences, 12 months; Leander Peltier, aggravated assault, 2 months from May 26; Henry Hooper, false pretences, suspended sentence; James Page, assault, released from detention.

The crater is smoking steadily from day to day.

CASE FOR MEXICAN FEDERALS IS GIVEN

Foreign Minister Ruiz Issues Memorandum Bringing Out New Angles

SAYS WASHINGTON PLAN BAD ONE FOR CARRANZA

If Freely Elected Might Pacify Country but Not Under American Hand

SUGGEST WILSON LEARN WHAT WELFARE MEANS

Mexico City, Mex., June 30.—Roberto Esteva Ruiz, acting foreign minister, has given out a memorandum bearing on the statement of the Mexican delegates to the Niagara Falls mediation conference, addressed to the American delegates and first made public from Niagara Falls June 17. In it he brings out certain passages which are not contained in the statement as issued at Niagara Falls.

The object of the memorandum is to combat the proposals presented by the American delegates which were said to be tantamount to reducing electoral liberty in Mexico to a sham, as the elections would be held under pressure in favor of Carranza.

This, it was argued, would be bad for Mexico and the United States, as well as for Carranza, as it would cause bad feeling between the two peoples, and Carranza would always be regarded as the nominee and subordinate of the American government.

For this reason it is stated the Mexican delegates rejected the proposals in question without even consulting their own government, for they could not countenance any arrangement enabling the Washington government to put in a president in Mexico.

The Mexican delegates in the document ask why the government at Washington objects to the establishment of a neutral provisional government which the Mexican delegates had immediately accepted. The only answer, they say, can be that the Washington government does not desire electoral liberty in Mexico.

President Wilson, they assert, has constantly alleged the welfare of the Mexican people to be the reason for his attitude, and the delegates say they thought the Mexican people should be consulted as to what they regarded as their welfare and not have it forced on them.

The Mexican delegates denied that the advance of the revolution proved that national sentiment in Mexico favored Carranza as states containing two-thirds of the country's inhabitants were not controlled by the revolution. But, even supposing that national sentiment favored Carranza, his election, they pointed out, was certain under a neutral government and there was no necessity for putting him in through a provisional government under his influence. If Carranza were elected at a free election, they pointed out, he might be a successful and respectable president capable of pacifying the country, but if put in by Washington he would be hampered by discredit and accused by popular clamor of treason and perpetual subordination to the orders of the White House.

If the Washington government insisted on its proposals, the delegates contended, the negotiations would fail and civil strife in Mexico would continue, and even if the revolutionary armies were victorious it would only be at the cost of much suffering and bloodshed. They say it was unbecoming to the government of a great civilized people such as the Americans to accept responsibility for these horrors when the same result could be attained by an honorable and peaceful exercise of the ballot. These reasons, they declare, also prevented the Mexican delegates accepting an electoral committee with a constitutionalist majority set up expressly for the purpose of securing the triumph of a given party. Nor could the Mexican delegates accept the proposal for the indefinite presence of American sea and land forces, as establishments in Mexico cannot and ought not to be held under seeming pressure.

Senor Esteva Ruiz stated that after the memorandum had been presented an agreement had been reached between the Mexican and American delegates, but it could not be given out because the Mexican government had made some observations on it.

SEATTLE VOTING ON CIVIC MANAGER PLAN

Proposal to Restore Ward System is Meeting With Strong Opposition.

Seattle, June 30.—A city election is being held to-day to pass upon the new city charter submitted by the fifteen free holders who were chosen last March for the purpose. The freeholders were recommended to provide for the commission form of government, but instead the charter provides for a city manager elected by a council of thirty members who shall be chosen by the district. The mayor shall be chosen by the whole city, but his duties are to be largely social. The proposal to restore the ward system has met with hot opposition, the labor unions being lined up solidly against it, as well as one faction of the Socialists. Seventy-five thousand persons are registered, but the vote is expected to be only half this total.

CONDEMNED MAN MEETS END WITH COMPOSURE

Edward Cook, Jr., Pays Extreme Legal Penalty at Halifax for Murder

Halifax, N. S., June 30.—Edward Cook, jr., aged 24 years, was hanged here this morning for the murder of Charles Asaff, an Asyrian peddler at Sheet Harbor on December 9, 1913. The condemned man had received spiritual ministration from Rev. A. Rogers from the time of his conviction until to-day, and met death with composure. Rev. Mr. Rogers went to the condemned man at the latter's request at daybreak to-day.

Asaff, the peddler, who was murdered, was reported missing last December. Cook was arrested and a pocket book and a money order belonging to Asaff were found in his possession. He was found guilty, but before being sentenced he made a statement implicating another man in the murder. It was not accepted. After the execution this morning a confession made by Cook three days ago was made public, stating that he alone had committed the crime. He expressed his regret for any injury he had caused others.

The execution was the first in Halifax for 48 years.

LIBERALS MAKE GAINS IN ONTARIO ELECTION

Whitney Government is Returned; Opposition Leader Gratified at Position

Toronto, June 30.—As a result of yesterday's voting, which was very heavy, more especially in the rural constituencies, the Liberal opposition gained 13 seats in the new legislature, the Conservatives gained nine seats and the Independents 2. The new house will be composed of 83 Conservatives, 26 Liberals and two Independents.

Sir James Whitney, former premier of the province and the leader of the government party, had his majority in Dundas reduced by nearly five hundred. Hon. Dr. Reaume, former minister of public works, was the only member of the cabinet defeated. A three-cornered fight in Windsor resulted in his elimination and the election of Rev. J. C. Tolmie, a Liberal.

N. W. Rowell, the leader of the Liberals, was elected by 99 majority.

Toronto, which for years has been the Conservative stronghold, held out some hope for the Liberals, as there had been two new seats created, but the Conservatives held the eight old seats and captured the two new ones.

There was one satisfactory feature in the fight for the Liberals, and that is that they made a big increase in their votes. This year the Liberal vote was over twice as large as in the previous election.

Out of four clergymen who were candidates in the campaign only one was elected, Rev. J. C. Tolmie, the Presbyterian minister of Windsor, who defeated the cabinet minister.

"It was a glorious victory—just what I expected, was the brief comment of Sir James P. Whitney.

N. W. Rowell, the Liberal leader, received the result of the elections at the Woodstock Young Liberal club rooms, and, interviewed later in the evening, made the following statement: "It is gratifying to find that, notwithstanding the whole weight of the government forces, aided by the organized liquor interests, we have improved our position in the house. For the sake of the policy for which we are fighting, I regret that our gains were not more numerous. We were greatly handicapped by the short period we had to prepare for the election. It took us all our time to get candidates in the field. We had no time to perfect organization in the great majority of the ridings, and no matter how good the cause, a good organization is necessary to insure success. In the two Brants, where our candidates were in the field since the first of the year, with a good opportunity of perfecting an organization, we succeeded in winning both seats. One lesson of the campaign is that we must perfect our organization in all the constituencies of the province, and we should commence to do so at once. I desire to thank the electors of the province who gave us their support, and particularly the large body of volunteers who have freely given of their time in this contest. We have brought into the political affairs of the province a new spirit of public interest, and hundreds of men who have not hitherto taken an active interest in political affairs will undoubtedly do so in the future."

EIGHTY-EIGHTH HAVE SERVICE AT NANAIMO

Field Manoeuvres Being Carried on With Civil Aid Force

Nanaimo, June 30.—The most important military manoeuvres ever staged in British Columbia are now taking place in this district. The participants are the 88th regiment of Victoria and the members of the civil aid force, who have been stationed at Nanaimo for the past several months. The field of operations covers the district between Nanaimo and Ladysmith, and the troops entered the field on Sunday afternoon. They are still in action, and the conclusion is not expected until Wednesday afternoon, when it is likely that the manoeuvres will finish with a sham battle.

The plan of operation, briefly, is as follows. Vancouver Island is in charge of the Red Army. The enemy, the Blue Army from the mainland, have landed a large raiding party at Ladysmith. The latter army is composed of the 88th from Victoria. The Reds are believed to hold important supplies at Nanaimo which the raiders are determined to capture or destroy.

War commenced at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon with Major de Salis in command of the raiders and Major Leckie defending the Nanaimo stores. Col. Hall, of Victoria, and staff of the civil aid force of Nanaimo, are acting as umpires and have the entree through all lines.

The troops left their respective positions at Nanaimo and Ladysmith at 2 o'clock. Both parties bivouacked at night and had scouts out. The opposing scouts have seen each other and some desultory firing has taken place. So far there have been no casualties, and as far as known neither of the main bodies have sighted each other. Between Ladysmith and Nanaimo there is the Nanaimo river to be crossed, and this point forms one of the strategic positions of the battlefield. The troops are following the identical routine of active service, sleeping in their blankets, strongly entrenching themselves against night attacks and well flanked by scouts.

With the defenders is a party of cadets from Nanaimo, and they are having the time of their lives. They are of valuable assistance, too, and are being given plenty of opportunity to show their worth. The civil aid forces, by reason of their long sojourn in the field, are standing the campaign well. The Victoria boys are also holding up their end.

LLOYD GEORGE MAKES FINANCE BILL CHANGE

London, June 30.—Changes in procedure on the Finance bill were announced by Chancellor Lloyd George in the House of Commons late yesterday, as a result of a conference between the leaders of both parties.

It was declared that obviously two finance bills in one session was an undesirable innovation. The chancellor has, therefore, decided to incorporate the clauses embodying local grants in the Revenue bill.

It is suggested that the Lords will ponder long before rejecting the bill, which would carry with it the responsibility of rejecting increased grants to local authorities.

NO BRITISH PRESSURE IN EXEMPTION REPEAL

President Wilson Arranged Tolls Question Without Word From London

London, June 30.—The repeal of the act exempting American coastwise shipping from payment of tolls for passage through the Panama canal was the subject of a highly interesting comment by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary in the House of Commons yesterday. Sir Edward was replying after a general debate on the appropriations for the foreign office, and he paid high compliments to President Wilson and the motives underlying his action.

The foreign secretary remarked that while a settlement had been reached it had not been entirely free from misrepresentation which might have in it the seed of future mischief. He added: "It is due to the president of the United States and to ourselves that I should, so far as possible, clear away that misrepresentation. It was stated in some quarters that the settlement was the result of bargaining or pressure. Since President Wilson came into office no correspondence on the matter has passed, and it ought to be realized in the United States that any line President Wilson has taken was not because it was our line, but his own.

"President Wilson's attitude was not the result of any diplomatic communication since he has come into power, and it must have been the result of papers already published to all the world.

"It has not been done to please us or in the interest of good relations, but in view of a much greater motive, the feeling that a government, which is to use its influence among the nations to make relations better, must never, when the occasion arises, flinch or quail from interpreting treaty rights in a stictly fair spirit."

BRITISH RESIDENTS PREPARE FOR RIOTS

Uprising in Mexico City is Possible and Defence Measures Are Taken

Vera Cruz, Mex, June 30.—The fear that the spread of disaffection among the Mexican federal troops might result in an uprising in Mexico City has caused the British residents there to hold a meeting to arrange final plans for the defence of the concentration district.

British refugees who have arrived here and who had attended the meeting said the general opinion expressed there was that Provisional President Huerta's hold on the situation in the capital was wavering and many predicted an uprising or a revolt of the federal army within a week or ten days.

Some of the refugees declared the federal defeat at Zacatecas to be partially due to the revolt of five thousand federal soldiers under the command of General Medina Barron. These men are said to have fired on their own comrades.

The situation at the front is declared so desperate that General Huerta is said to have ordered General Joaquin Maas, a son of Huerta's brother-in-law, to remain in the capital instead of returning to take command at Queretaro, where efforts are being made to face the advance of General Villa's army.

Two regiments of federals were sent to Queretaro from the capital on Saturday. Those who saw them passing through the streets assert that the ranks were filled with boys and soldiers taken from the hospitals after their wounds were half-healed.

Conditions among the population of the capital are asserted by the refugees to be ominously quiet.

The disintegration of the federal army has become widely known and the feeling among British residents is so strong that Huerta will be unable to hold off the constitutionalists and retain control of the capital long enough to prevent the humiliation of his forcible removal from office, that the British colony is preparing to defend itself during the days of expected turmoil in Mexico City.

The refugees say that other foreign colonies in the capital are taking similar precautions.

Mexico City, June 29.—In view of the existing conditions in Mexico, Sir Lionel Carden, British minister, to-day advises all British subjects temporarily to leave the country. He said that the shortage of fuel used in the operation of trains was growing more acute daily and that the trains probably would stop running, which would make it difficult to depart from the interior.

CHILDREN ESCAPE BUT ARE LEFT MOTHERLESS

Vancouver, June 30.—While Mrs. O. Lewis and her husband and their four children were walking along the riverway road in Burnaby last night at 10 o'clock the husband and wife were struck by a motor car. Mrs. Lewis was killed and her husband was badly injured and had to be removed to the New Westminster hospital. The children were unhurt. The family lived on riverway and were proceeding toward their home when struck. The Burnaby police refused to make any statement regarding the death of Mrs. Lewis.

HER BIRTHDAY.

To-morrow Canada will celebrate her forty-seventh birthday as a self-governing Dominion, commemorating an event which marked the commencement of a new order in the progress of the Empire. The history of this country in that comparatively short time has demonstrated the unerring foresight and wisdom of the Fathers of Confederation and the futility of the arguments of their timorous opponents. The history of the Empire in the same period has shown that the founders of the Dominion builded better than they knew, for they really had laid the corner-stone of Imperial solidarity. Through their statesmanship Canada became the pioneer in a new policy and upon her example has been founded self-government in the thriving dominions of Australia, South Africa and New Zealand.

The great experiment of 1867, the natural offspring of the policy which twenty-six years earlier applied the principle of responsible government to the old provinces, was not without its critics at home and in Britain. Public men of suspicious minds and narrow vision predicted the end of the Empire as a direful consequence of confederation. Canada, they declared, would fall into the maw of the American republic, and they prepared themselves to bid her a melancholy adieu. It never occurred to them that all the wreckage of ruined empires was strewn upon one path; in other words, that practically all the imperial catastrophes of ancient and mediaeval record were due to causes which could be traced to one particular policy, a policy of centralized authority which ignored the aspirations of subordinate peoples and thereby violated the fundamental law of human progress and liberty. It was this policy which lost for Britain the American colonies, and which, if persisted in, would have alienated every one of her overseas possessions not held actually by the power of the sword.

The confederation of the provinces of Canada, involving a departure from an Imperial system which had been an egregious failure in every case, therefore proved to be an element of Imperial as well as national strength and permanency instead of one of weakness. It called upon the resources, pride and spirit of the people, it eliminated causes of friction between the young country and the motherland, and it developed a new ideal to be attained, vastly different from the sombre prospect of remaining a subordinate province, a satrapy with no national soul of its own.

It is a curious thing that the success which has vindicated so strikingly the statesmanship of the Fathers of Confederation has frightened a small but noisy body of people on both sides of the Atlantic. They are the direct descendants of those who predicted tragic sequels to the extension of self-government to the colonies. They want to see the British Empire back again upon the beaten path that is chequered with the ruins of all other empires. They miss those ruins, family relics, so to speak which had been laid there by their forefathers to exhibit the triumph of the policy of imperial centralization. It is not surprising to learn upon investigation that the busybodies who are thus tinkering with Imperial solidarity and vitiating Imperial sentiment by suggesting what in its ultimate effect would be a return to the old status of colonial subordination, are the same parties who always align themselves against every measure having for its object the broader improvement of the people.

Not long ago a great British statesman, who for years had been ambassador to another liberty-loving people, advised the various parts of the Empire to keep their national affairs in watertight compartments. He meant by this that they should be careful not to confuse the issues which affect one with those which affect the others. Each Dominion has its own problems, affected by conditions peculiar to itself, and each must provide its own remedies. The great bond, the throne, is venerated by all and that is why it is so effective. Its influence has grown stronger in the Dominions hand in hand with their wider material and constitutional progress. That tie will be weakened only when short-sighted statesmen try to undo the work of the Fathers of Confederation and impose upon it statutory encumbrances and restrictions.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

Several facts have been established emphatically by the elections held in Ontario yesterday. The people of that province have not lost confidence in Premier Whitney, they do not want the bar abolished by a large majority, and the campaign managers who insisted upon an election a year and a half in advance of the statutory period in order to catch the opposition unprepared, to utilize the popularity of the premier and take sentimental advantage of what admittedly would be his last public appeal were wise men in their political generation.

Sir James Whitney has been continued in power by a slightly reduced majority after one of the most exciting campaigns in the history of the province, a campaign which was unusual in the fact that several branches of the church took an active part in it and had the lesson strongly impressed upon them that the influence of the pulpit in politics does not extend very far beyond church doors. In the city of Toronto in particular the clergymen of three of the larger denominations and one prominent Catholic ecclesiastic delivered strong appeals to the electorate—and Toronto returned by large majorities every candidate who declared himself by his attitude if not actually by his speeches to be opposed strongly to the reforms proposed by Mr. N. W. Rowell, the opposition leader. The result was precisely what was expected by men of keen insight who viewed the conflict from afar. It contains a lesson which will be applied profitably by public men of discerning minds.

The emphatic character of the victory in Ontario undoubtedly was due to the strong hold Sir James Whitney has upon the confidence and affection of the electorate. The premier's valedictory address in Toronto was pathetic in its appeal for a final expression of approval of his public policies. It had a powerful influence in producing the results attained yesterday. It practically was a confession that he had finished his work and that his one remaining desire was to retire from public office in full possession of the confidence of the electorate. Sir James has attained the summit of his ambition. He will retire shortly in accordance with the programme of the party managers, and the struggle for his mantle will begin between Hon. W. J. Hanna and Sir Adam Beck. Sir Adam is the more popular man of the two, but Mr. Hanna has the advantage of position. The practical politicians are all behind him. They did their worst to sidetrack Sir Adam in the preliminary manoeuvres and all but succeeded in jockeying him out of the nomination in London, for which city he was returned by a very large majority.

The outstanding feature of the campaign apart from the general result was the heavy vote polled, indicating that the interest of the masses of the people was stirred up in an unwonted degree by the appeals of the opposition. Mr. Rowell, the leader of that party, is a young man both in years and political experience. He is able and courageous, and doubtless will gain in strength and become an important factor in the public life of the province of Ontario.

WE HOPE SO.

A dispatch from Ottawa says the federal government may be influenced by the result of the Ontario elections to appeal to the country this year. Nothing would suit the Liberal party better, and we fancy the people of Canada would be glad to have an opportunity to get rid of the reactionary brigade whose policy has been so disastrous to their interests.

And upon what would Sir Robert Borden base his appeal for the suffrages of the electors? Would it be upon the unprecedented prosperity which has blessed the people during his administration? Well, hardly. Would it be upon the efforts of his government to obtain wider markets for the Canadian producers? Would it be upon its efforts to cope with the cost of living problem as exemplified in the activities of the farcical commission which recently visited Victoria, or upon his valiant protection of the welfare of the consumer against the trusts as shown by his tariff legislation? Or would it be upon his Oriental immigration policy? If he cannot appeal upon any of these he has one recourse left—a naval policy. But, alas! he has no naval policy, and at the present rate of progress he never will have one. Yes, all things considered, we sincerely trust Sir Robert will be induced to consult the electorate this year, and we hope it will be soon. This country needs Laurier and a resumption of his progressive policy, and the sooner the change is made the better.

SURPRISED AT TORONTO.

While we did not anticipate a Liberal victory in Ontario, we did expect that Toronto would show its hatred of the bar and return the Rowell contingent. The numerous sermons launched from that austerely beautiful city against the intemperance and licentiousness of the unregenerate West, the frequent intimations that we should try, at least, to be as circumspect in our conduct as the people of Ontario's capital, led us to believe that all Toronto wanted was one opportunity to smash the liquor traffic hip and thigh. Surely, thought we, the bar is utterly doomed in Toronto. All Whitney's candidates will lose their deposits. Imagine our astonishment on learning that not only did the opponents of bar banishment hold the eight seats they held already, but actually won the new seats provided under the recent redistribution! There is but one consolation left for us, and we trust it will not be blasted. It is the hope that none of those who bewailed the extent of the liquor traffic in British Columbia voted in favor of the bar in Toronto.

There is the germ of a fine idea in the contention of counsel in the Hindu case now before the courts that eastern ports of Canada are open to Indian immigrants. We hope the dark-skinned strangers who are so devouringly anxious to obtain permanent habitation in this land of promise will take advantage of this alluring opportunity. That would bring a real test of the hospitality of the East, whose people profess considerable sympathy for the aspirations of Hindus and so little for the views of the residents of British Columbia who have had practical experience of the results of Asiatic immigration. But we have serious doubts as to whether the men who seem determined to force their presence upon us are very eager to settle in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec, not to mention Ontario with its professedly superior ideals, and the other inland provinces.

\+ + +

We fear Ontario with all its professions is but a worldly province after all. Several editors and many lawyers were elected to the legislature yesterday, while only one preacher made a successful appeal for the suffragages of the electorate.

\+ + +

It is customary for the defeated party in an election to claim a great moral victory. We wonder whose will be the only consolation in Ontario today following the peculiar conflict of yesterday.

\+ + +

There can be no doubt that Carranza is trying to dissociate himself from Villa. He realizes that his chances of succeeding Huerta are hopeless as long as he is connected with his ferocious though able general. He was willing to benefit from the victories of Villa until they brought him within striking distance of his goal, and now he would like to get rid of that successful soldier. He may learn, however, that two can play that game.

Visits City.—J. W. Stewart, president of the Pacific Great Eastern railway company, was in the city yesterday afternoon to confer with D'Arcy Tate, vice-president of the company, and Sir Richard McBride on matters relating to the progress of construction. Mr. Stewart announces the appointment of J. Cummings as engineer of the works of development at Squamish, at the head of Howe sound. These will involve changes in the channel of the Squamish river so as to bring it up against the base of the mountain and so avoid erosion. Mr. Stewart says there are six thousand men at work along the line from Vancouver to Fort George, and he expects the grading of the right-of-way to be completed by the end of the year. When not supervising work along the P. G. E. line Mr. Stewart is looking after the contract for the boring of the tunnel for the C. P. R. at Glacier, an immense work five miles in length.

Fire Horses Runaway.—The No. 3 hall, Kingston street, received a call about midnight last evening but the horses ran away before the driver could take his seat properly. W. Smith, the driver, was thrown out and badly bruised, and the horses dashed away, wrenching a door off its hinges. They ran to Erie street before they stopped. The alarm was a false one.

Asks Larger Grant.—A deputation from the board of school trustees of Burnaby school district waited upon Hon. Dr. Young yesterday to ask for a larger grant in aid of education in that municipality. They claim that owing to the growth of the population, spreading over from the city of Vancouver, the demands upon the school accommodation are greater than the trustees can satisfy with the means at their command. The minister promised consideration of the matter.

Permission Withheld. — Permission to erect the much-discussed awning over the sidewalk last evening by the city council, the building inspector and fire chief opposing the proposal submitted by the architect. The council adopted the officials' recommendation. Later Alderman Cuthbert arrived in the chamber, and secured a further consideration of the matter. He declared that a permit should have been granted on the amended plans submitted by the architect, which would have protected the fire department in handling an outbreak in the building. The matter then dropped

Presentation to Member.—A charming little ceremony took place yesterday at the Y. W. C. A., when a number of the resident members met and presented Miss Motheral, who has lived there for the past year or more, with a case of cutlery and table linen, the occasion being in honor of her marriage which took place to-day. Miss Fawcett, acting-secretary in Miss Bradshaw's absence, and a member of the board of management, made the presentation on behalf of the girls, accompanying the gift with an expression of their united wishes for Miss Motheral's future happiness and their regret (which was tempered by the pleasing circumstances) that she was leaving their midst. Miss Motheral was one of the most popular of the girl residents, and will be much missed among those who have made their home at the Y. W. C. A.

ANIMALS AT PANTAGES

Entertaining Turn Furnished This Week by Chimpanzee and Elephant; Other Good Numbers.

Good houses should be recorded at Pantages theatre this week, as there are several very attractive features on the programme. An uproariously funny performance is given by a chimpanzee on skates, in whom one fails to trace the reason for the high-sounding name "Napoleon" which is given on the programme. Perhaps it is because he is so little and so resourceful. At any rate he is a very active and agile specimen of his race, and his feats on roller skates, playing "catch" round "Little Hip's" legs is one of the most amusing things imaginable. "Little Hip" is a 4-year-old Sumatra elephant, small, but very intelligent, but possessing a pliant proboscis which is nimbly used in catching a dumb-bell thrown by the Russian trainer.

Another very finished turn is that provided by the Alpha troupe of hoop rollers and diabolo throwers. The uncanny cleverness of one of the troupe is particularly shown in his use of the hoops, which he throws with a twist which brings them back after they have traversed a straight line half across the stage. Standing just at the entrance to the wings, this same performer sends the hoops with a rotary twist round a small staked space in the centre of the stage where they deposit themselves one by one.

Barnes and Barron, "after the reception," are a pair of entertaining Hebrews, one fat, short and very talkative; the other painfully lean and tall and dazed. Immaculate evening dress enhances the characteristics of each.

The Gallirini's, four in number, give a number of fragments of popular airs on concertinas, a violin and pipes providing the turn with some variety. "A Coon Town Wrangle" also furnishes some amusement with back-talk and wit, Galloway and Roberts being the principals.

Tender for Fibre Conduit.—The city council last evening awarded the contract for fibre conduit, 10,000 feet, for the electric lighting department, to be supplied as necessity demands, to D. L. Hickey & Co. The aldermen chose a local firm in preference to an outside one, there being only two tenderers and the prices being identical.

Railway Engineers in Town.—B. B. Kelliher, chief engineer on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, and Collingwood Schreiber, the Dominion government's consulting engineer on the National Transcontinental railway, arrived in the city yesterday and are staying at the Empress hotel. They have been over the newly-completed Grand Trunk line from Edmonton to the coast.

B. C. E. R. Tennis Club.—At Deep Bay last Sunday the office staff tennis club of the B. C. Electric railway held a most enjoyable picnic, traveling out by special train from the city at 10.30 a. m., and at noon taking the excellent lunch provided by Messrs. H. O. Kirkham & Co. Later in the day, at 5 o'clock, tea was served, and the party returned to the city after a most delightful day's outing with launch trips and games and open-air pleasures.

Clear Good Sum.—The sacred concert given at "Lovelands" on Sunday evening drew a large number of people to the pretty grounds where the fete was held the day before by the Girls' Realm Guild. Music was provided by Mesdames Osler, McConnan and Sharps and Messrs. Shaw and Findlay, Mrs. Baer acting as accompanist and also providing some pianoforte solos. The collections amounted to $17, which amount is being added to the building fund of St. Michael's. As a result of the fete on Saturday last it is anticipated that over $200 will be cleared, the receipts already showing, before the return of all the ticket money, something over $260. The guild has expressed its thanks to Lady McBride, for opening the ceremony; to Mrs. Eberts, Mrs. W. J. Roper, and Miss Barton for judging in the fancy-dress competitions; and to Mrs. Henry Croft (who evinced such a deep interest in the undertaking, not only being present but giving a number of beautiful things for the various stalls), and others.

HINDU CASE DISMISSED

Magistrate Satisfied That Alleged Conspiracy is a Matter of Account for Civil Courts.

With a renewed expression of his belief that the case had been brought in the wrong court, Magistrate Jay yesterday afternoon dismissed the charge of conspiracy laid by Harnam Singh against Ganga Ram and Amar Singh. The case had taken up better part of the morning and considerable time in the afternoon.

The charge was that on January 31, 1912, the two defendants conspired together to defraud the complainant by falsely making a cheque for $300 on the Bank of Vancouver, purporting to have been made by Amar Singh in favor of Harnam Singh and to have been handed to the latter by the former. The allegation was that the men had known that the complainant had put money in the bank on or about January 31 and had drawn the cheque to make it appear that the cheque had formed the greater part of the deposit.

Harnam Singh, shown the cheque, said he had never seen it before. He could not read and was not able to write more than his name. He was equally ignorant of any judgment being obtained against him here by Amar Singh. A few weeks ago he was arrested here by Ganga Ram and taken to Vancouver, where he was discharged in the higher court, Ganga Ram not appearing to prosecute.

C. H. Pitts, for the defence, objected to any other cases being gone into, but E. M. N. Woods, for the private prosecution, said he would connect them.

Magistrate Jay remarked that in his experience any of these Hindu cases could be traced back to something that had happened previously, sometimes perhaps to a feud originating before the parties came to Canada. It would be quite as likely, as experience had shown, that the present was a conspiracy to send the defendants to jail as that it was a conspiracy on their part to defraud the complainant.

It came out that in January of last year Harnam and Ganga were in partnership here in the real estate business, and that there had been money transactions back and forth between them. Harnam claimed that in February, 1913, he had lent the defendant sums of $125 and $95, and had handed him $140 to pay on a piece of property for which he had not yet received the title. He made out that Ganga owes him $310, having given him back $50. He owned to being a very poor business man, with no knowledge of English, but described Ganga as very clever, reading and writing the language well.

C. H. Pitts addressed the court on a motion to dismiss the case, and E. M. N. Woods, Vancouver, replied for the private prosecution.

His worship, in dismissing the case, said it appeared that there were moneys due from one to the other in the case, and that the matter had been brought to the attention of the wrong court.

CANAL EXPECTED TO HELP COAST TRADE

Fleet of Idle Steam Schooners Will Find Much to Do When Panama Opens

Portland, June 30.—Local shipping men look for increased business for steam schooners along the coast immediately after the opening of the Panama canal, as it is said many of the larger vessels plying between Pacific Northwest ports and California will be placed in service through the new waterway to the Atlantic seaboard. The larger craft are expected to find lucrative employment in the lumber trade from Portland, Puget Sound, British Columbia and Grays Harbor to the other side of the continent.

When the object of making use of the canal, the coastwise owners turned out considerable additional tonnage two or three years ago. Many of the vessels were of sufficient capacity to permit of their being sent on long passages at a profit. So when the canal has been thrown open to general use and this class of tonnage has been diverted to the coast-to-coast trade more business for the steam schooners running out of here to California naturally is expected.

For some little time there has not been adequate traffic to keep all of the coasters in regular service. There is a considerable fleet tied up at various points, the majority of the boats being idle in Oakland creek. There has been no perceptible reduction in the rates for transporting lumber down the coast, and the tariff for carrying cereals has undergone little change. The maintaining of the rates is expected to prove a boon to the operators of tonnage when the big ditch becomes available.

Just now few steam schooners are under construction at any of the yards on the Pacific coast. One of these is being built for the Charles R. McCormick company at the St. Helens yards. Her frames are up and it is planned to have her ready to go in commission by the first of the year. She will carry lumber from Portland to San Francisco and return with general cargoes. She will be capable of handling 1,000,000 feet of lumber at a trip. The vessel also will have accommodation for 50 first-class passengers. She will be a duplicate of the Multnomah and Celilo, owned and operated by the same company.

LARGE HALIBUT ARE CAUGHT BY VICTORIA

Fish Weighing 200 Pounds Taken Off Coast Banks; Largest to Arrive

Halibut weighing between 150 and 200 pounds, claimed to be the largest ever landed in Victoria, were included in the catch of the fishing schooner Victoria, Capt. Pike, which returned to port last night from the west coast banks after a short cruise. In the vessel's fish locker were stored about 30,000 pounds of halibut, and owing to the fact that the schooner Jessie discharged a large shipment here late last week, and the fish dealers had large stocks, only a small part of the Victoria's catch was unloaded here. The vessel was ordered to Vancouver, and proceeded about noon to-day.

Capt. Pike reports good weather off the banks on the trip, which enabled the fishermen to set their gear and watch it, uninterrupted by the sudden bursting of a heavy gale. Thus a big catch was secured in a short space of time. Of late the local schooners have been catching only small fish off the west coast banks, and it was somewhat of a surprise to see the big halibut being dumped out on the wharf, and two men having to lift one fish on the scales.

Jessie Finishing Repairs.

The schooner Jessie, which broke her tail shaft on her last trip, and had to be towed home, has been on the Victoria Machinery Depot slip for some days having repairs made. It is expected that she will be floated some time to-day. On her last trip the Jessie fished most of the time in Hecate Strait, and will probably try those banks again as she met fine weather, and secured a good catch.

ASIA ARRIVES TO-MORROW

At noon to-day the fast C. P. R. liner Empress of Asia, Capt. S. Robinson, was close to 300 miles from Victoria. She is steaming at better than 19 knots an hour, and it is expected she will be at William Head by daylight to-morrow morning. The great ship is four days behind her schedule, and is in a hurry to reach Vancouver. She will remain here only a short time. She is bringing in a large list of passengers from Hongkong and Yokohama.

SADO MARU DUE IN

It is expected that the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Sado Maru, Captain Asakawa, will reach Victoria to-morrow about noon from the Far East. Her master to-day failed to report his time of arrival here, but by working out the position he gave at 8 o'clock last night she should be along at noon to-morrow, weather conditions being favorable.

SEA LION PUPS WERE FORCIBLY FED; DEAD

Only One Survives on Newington; Members of Crew Used Leather Gloves

Through the splendid results which they obtained by the forcible feeding of three young sea lion pups, several members of the crew of the fishery protection cruiser Newingthon, Capt. Bilton, believe that they are now well qualified for service in the London prisons in attending to the needs of militant suffragettes who desire to go on hunger strikes. Before proceeding any further, however, it might be as well to add that two of the pups passed away during the quiet hours of last night. Far from regarding this as a serious blow to their qualifications the men claim that it enhances their professions of ability.

The Newington returned to Victoria last night after a two months' cruise off the west coast of Vancouver Island. While off the sea lion rookeries Capt. Bilton decided to get a few pups for the parks of Vancouver. Three fine youngsters were caught and were placed under the care of several members of the crew. Early in the homeward trip the "young bounders went on a hunger strike," as one of the men put it. They would not eat what was set before them so it was a case of resulting to harsh methods.

How It Was Done.

With large leather gloves covering their hands the men proceeded to feed the animals. One man grasped the creature's jaws and another dropped the food into the great mouths. This process went on throughout the trip to Victoria. Two of the pups were successful in their hunger strike and their last sparks of life fluttered out last night. The other pup was still clinging to life when the ship arrived, and today it is on its way to Vancouver, where it will be put in one of the parks.

All hands believe their comrades, who fed the pups, are past-masters in the newest of arts.

The Newington has been patrolling the West Coast, but Capt. Bilton says that he saw very few fishermen during the two months he was at sea. A number of boats are fishing salmon out of Ucluelet and one man last Saturday took 120 salmon.

The Newington will get away on another cruise in a few days.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any time, add 19.0 feet to the height of high water as above given. Tidal differences for Fuca and Haro Straits are given in the foregoing list.

RIGHT WHALE TAKEN BY CAPT. CHRISTIAN

First of Very Valuable Species of Mammals Caught by Local Fleet

For the first time in the history of the Victoria whaling fleet, a right whale, a rare and valuable species, has been captured. The whaler Blue, Capt. J. Christian, had the distinction of harpooning the mammal and it has been cut up at the station at Naden Harbor, Queen Charlotte Islands. As a result of bagging the valuable right whale, Capt. Christian and his crew will find their pay cheques much larger than ordinarily, because the company offers a high rate for every mammal of this species which is towed into a station. It is understood that a right whale is worth in the neighborhood of $10,000.

The whaling skippers and gunners operating out of Victoria have always kept a sharp lookout for rights, but they are not known to frequent British Columbia waters in any large numbers. They make their home in the cold regions of the Arctic. When the right whale comes to the surface to blow it sends up two spouts of water and it is by this sign that the whaler distinguishes between the right and a sulphur bottom or a humpback.

Large Quantity of Bone.

What makes the right whale so valuable, outside of the fact that it is scarce and hard to get, is the great amount of whalebone. The head is of enormous size, exceeding one-third of the whole length of the creature. The cavity of the mouth is actually larger than that of the body, thorax and abdomen taken together. Owing to the nature of the bone it is used in the manufacture of silk and therefore is of great value.

Now that one right whale has been taken the members of the local fleet will be keeping a far stricter lookout for the "two-spouters," but as this is about the sixth whaling season and only one right whale has been harpooned, it is likely that another long period of time will elapse before another member of the valuable species is taken.

BRIDGE BY-LAW IS TO BE SUBMITTED

Measure Will Be Introduced to City Council on Monday; Apportionment of Cost

The Johnson street bridge will cost about $700,00. That figure includes the land damages. Of the total the city will contribute about $400,000, and the by-law will be introduced at the city council meeting next Monday evening.

This was the message of Alderman Cuthbert, chairman of the special committee, to the city council last evening. He asked for a direction to the city solicitor to prepare a by-law, which will be brought down at the next meeting.

Alderman Cuthbert reviewed the negotiations at some length, and explained that the city would have 235 feet of waterfrontage at a cost which, while he would not disclose it, was almost the assessor's estimate. The aldermen could draw some conclusion as to the amount to be paid by the city when he mentioned that land in the vicinity had been sold at $150 per front foot. The committee had also secured the double approach to the bridge on the city side.

It had not been decided whether a bascule or a swing bridge would be built. The makers of each made claims for their respective types. The alderman was emphatic that his estimate, of $400,000 as the city's share would include all land damages, the discount on the bonds (about 10 per cent. including everything), and the city's part of the cost of the bridge. The government and the railways had undertaken to contribute $305,000 to the scheme. He renewed the hope that the city would use the area set free under the eastern approaches to the bridge for a public market, owing to its exceptional position on the waterfront.

The alderman congratulated the council on the happy issue of a long business negotiation which had involved many interests. It had been carried through without the petty jealousies and politics which had marked most of the problems since he entered the council.

With Alderman McNeill's eulogy of Alderman Cuthbert's services as chairman of the committee began a series of tributes to the alderman who is shortly retiring from the council. The mayor and several of the aldermen expressed their warm gratitude for his services in the council this year, but particularly in the bridge issue.

The council gave directions also to the city clerk to have the voters' list prepared for a poll on the by-law.

In acknowledging the felicitations of his colleagues Alderman Cuthbert mentioned that the appointment of himself as industrial commissioner had never been contemplated when the office of industrial commissioner was first planned. It was not till after Mr. McGaffey had retired from the secretaryship of the Vancouver Island Development league that friends in the city had approached him, asking him to stand for the joint offices. He had taken a serious risk in accepting the appointment, as he was abandoning his business and retiring from the council, but he believed he could do good work for the city in the new position. In leaving the council now he knew at last that the city's affairs were in the hands of sane, honest and capable men.

TO PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE WEIGHT

A Physician's Advice.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good, solid, fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by D. E. Campbell, prescription store, Victoria, B. C., and other good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

OWNERS PETITION AT THE ELEVENTH HOUR

Unexpected Opposition to Fairfield Road Improvement; Effort to Change Opinion

Civic administration is full of surprises, but two petitions which came in to the city council last evening from owners of property on Fairfield road capped the climax. Though the city has spent thousands of dollars in widening the section of the road from Dallas road past the cemetery to the city boundary at Fowl Bay road and paid many of the owners compensation as a preliminary to widening and paving the street, two petitions affecting the thoroughfare in question were read protesting against the work proceeding. Each of them represented a majority of the owners in numbers and value, therefore the by-laws are killed unless the council can secure a change of opinion. An effort to alter opinion is to be made at a meeting of the streets committee on Friday, which the owners will be invited to attend.

So thoroughly committed is the council to the expropriations that in the finance committee's report an item for $2,150 compensation to the Island Investment company was passed, as additional land damages on Fairfield road.

Ald. Cuthbert, who has always supported this project, explained that he had sold his property in the vicinity some years ago, and expressed regret at the owners' action. If there had not been a blunder in the engineering department at the start there would have been a paved street long ago.

Ald. Tood joined in deprecating the unexpected action. It was a trunk thoroughfare which formed part of the beach drive scheme and therefore should be carried to conclusion. He alluded to the large number of expropriation claims which had been paid on the street.

Ald. McNeill united in the expression of regret, and eventually it was decided that the attempt to turn the owners from their purpose should be made on Friday at the streets committee meeting.

Ald. Cuthbert added, as the matter was being dropped, that the method of assessment on the property should be carefully explained, as he believed the majority of the owners had supported the adverse petitions on a misunderstanding.

SHOPS BY-LAW NEXT WEEK

Retail Merchants' Association Asks That Hours Be Extended on Saturday Evenings.

The shopclosing regulation by-law again came before the city council last evening, but the aldermen failed to make any progress. Alderman McCandless, chairman of the health committee, asked for the matter to be laid over for another week in order that some legal matters in connection with it could be taken up with the city solicitor. The by-law will come up again next Monday.

Prior to the regular council meeting a conference was held, at which the opinion of the Retail Merchants' association on the matter was heard. The members of the deputation, headed by J. D. O'Connell, supported the proposal, but expressed a desire to see the hour on Saturday evenings extended to 10 o'clock, with a similar provision for the eve of public holidays.

That the existing by-laws on the matter have not been enforced was also the subject of representation, the hope being expressed that the new measure would be applied absolutely fairly to all.

Messrs. McKinnon and Paterson, as Johnson street dealers, stated that the opposition from that street came only from second hand stores, which led Alderman Okell to observe that the provincial act exempted second hand businesses anyway.

The deputation withdrew on the assurance that the council would give the representations full attention.

The rich are becoming richer. There are no fewer than 4,350 persons in this country with incomes of over £10,000 a year. There we have a vast taxable wealth which may fairly be called on to make special contribution to the needs of social reform.—Reginald McKenna.

TAXATION OF THE UNEARNED INCREMENT

Mr. Sorby Urges Council to Consider Subject; Finance Committee Will Report

To the finance committee of the city council will go a communication from Thomas C. Sorby, C. E., on the advisability of taxing the "unearned increment." The letter was received by the city council at the meeting last evening.

In his communication Mr. Sorby says in part: "Owing to the general era of prosperity there is a general enhancement of land values due not to any act or enterprise on the part of the present owners, but to the mere fact of increased population, and the consequent municipal activities and developments following upon the growth of the city. It is within the knowledge of yourself (the mayor) and the council that as soon as any enterprise is started or some large building erected in a secondary neighborhood where land can at the moment be bought cheaply, all the surrounding property, before unsaleable, is immediately enhanced in value. This sudden increase is not in any way due to the enterprise of the owners, but solely to extraneous causes, to the mere fact of the development of the city, which I take to be a collective term, as no unit can thrive on itself. All such developments mean increase in civic expenditure on roads, water, lighting, police, fire protection, library, parks, schools, board of health, etc., in which all dwellers within the municipality participate.

"I would, therefore, suggest for the consideration of yourself and the council:

"1. The registration at the city hall of all sales of real estate and a statement under oath of the price paid.

"2. The levying of a tax of ten per cent. on the sum realized over and above the assessed value as appearing in the assessment roll of the then current year."

Mr. Sorby quotes the resolution adopted by the convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities at Saskatchewan last year, and suggests the desirability of the Victoria delegates chosen for the forthcoming meeting taking the matter up, and giving support to a resolution "seeking to secure legal powers to collect from the vendor of any property an equitable contribution as before suggested, as a due from the beneficiary towards those public works and institutions of the city, which undoubtedly created and developed those enhanced values."

MAKE LITTLE CHANGE

J. W. Bolden is Only New Name on List Representing City on Hospital Board.

After having postponed the appointment of its representatives on the board of directors of the Royal Jubilee hospital from the prior meeting until last night, the city council last evening was asked to lay the matter over till the subscribers had chosen their representatives.

The clerk pointed out that the act required a selection to be made before July 1.

When a nominating ballot was spread, ten citizens were nominated, two of them ladies and eight gentlemen. Those nominated were Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Otto Weiler, Messrs. R. S. Day, J. W. Bolden, T. Kirkpatrick, H. Callow, A. Wright, L. Tait, F. W. Vincent and R. L. Drury

While the ballot was being taken, Ald. Cuthbert complained against the lobbying which had prevailed on this matter. On a ballot being taken the following vote was declared: Kirkpatrick, 9; Day, 8; Tait, 7; Bolden, 7 (elected), Drury, 5; Vincent, 6; Wright, 6; Drury, 5; Mrs. Weiler, 4. On a second ballot taken to overcome the 6-6 tie, Mr. Drury and Mrs. Weiler were dropped and the final ballot stood Wright, 6; Vincent, 5. Mr. Wright was therefore elected, with the first four.

The net result is that the retiring chairman of the board, J. W. Bolden, who is a representative of the government, replaces F. W. Vincent, a former alderman, on the board as a city representative. Messrs. Day, Tait, Kirkpatrick and Wright were already members of the board as city representatives.

ART GALLERY.

City Council Holds Out Little Encouragement That Site Will Be Given.

When the petition on the matter was before it last evening the city council did not offer much encouragement to the proposal that the city give a site for a municipal art gallery.

Alderman Todd did not think the city could get money this year for luxuries.

The mayor observed that the ladies took the view that they could raise the money if the council would give a site.

Alderman Todd, as one who had put a good deal of money into the Royal Victoria theatre, believed that to raise money for such an object was taxation of some citizens, though perhaps of a voluntary nature. This subscription proposal was taxation of those contributing to it. He did not think that the city should give the valuable lot at the rear of the Empress hotel for that purpose, as suggested by the deputation.

Alderman McNeill and the mayor urged the appointment of a committee, and this course was agreed to, it being resolved that the finance committee should consider the matter. Little hope, however, was held out of anything being done this year.

ABUNDANCE OF HITS GAVE BEES A WIN

Victoria Club Celebrates Its Return Home by Beating Tacoma 12 to 6

Victoria won a hard-hitting game from Tacoma yesterday by a six-run margin, the score being 12-6. Steele and Andrada, the opposing twirlers, were batted freely. Tacoma's hits were scattered and good fielding by the local outfield prevented the Tigers from making the game exciting.

Andrada, of Tacoma, who is used in the box more than the iron man, is the picture of Francis, the Giants' third-sacker. He had a nice breaking curve, good control and a fair amount of speed but was no puzzle to the hitting locals. He got through the first inning without being bumped, but was pounded hard in the second.

Wilhoit hit the first ball out of the lot; Scanlon walked; Kelly sacrificed, and Delmas had a speedy one for a circuit. Steele apparently loafed on the three-run lead and did not consider the Tigers dangerous, but the Tigers also commenced hitting in the third, scoring two runs on a brace of singles and a double. Andrade tightened for three innings and held the locals runless, while Tacoma hit Bobby's delivery hard, scoring three runs in the fourth on four hits.

Tacoma's lead was only short-lived, though as the "wrecking crew" started again in the sixth, scoring six runs. In the seventh three more brought their total to twelve. Steele closed up in the pinches and held the visitors to one run for the remainder of the game.

Andrada was relieved in the seventh, when Stevens went in to bat, and McGinnity took up the burden. Joe worked in his usual style and fanned two while he forced the other batter to roll a feeble out. Steele was very shaky, not only being batted for eleven hits, but issuing six bases on balls, and striking out but two men. Excellent work by the outfielders kept many drives down to singles what looked like extra-base blows.

Slim Smith is in Tacoma, having his leg treated and will not join the team this week.

JOHNSTON VICTOR.

San Jose, Cal., June 30.—William Johnston won the title of champion singles tennis player of the Pacific coast by defeating Elias Fottrell in straight sets, 6-4, 6-0, 6-2.

A Big Revival in Bicycling this Year

All the signs point to a greater demand for bicycles, likewise for tires.

But no matter whether bicycling was up or down, Dunlop Tires were always "there." In other words, Dunlop Tires have always enjoyed the biggest portion of the patronage that was going. So this likely-looking increase in this year's bicycle business means more friends added to the Dunlop calling list of twenty-six years. D. 120

FUNDS VOTED TO LOCAL OARSMEN
ATHLETIC MEETS FOR THE HOLIDAY

Caledonian Society Sports at the Willows; Athletic and Military Tourney at Oak Bay

A vote of $50 was passed by the city council last night for the fund to send the Victoria Amateur Athletic Association crews to Portland for the N. P. A. A. O. regatta next month. It will take nearly $300 to send down the crews that have been entered, and to-morrow's sports at Oak Bay are being held in an effort to secure the balance of this amount.

The crews representing the Victoria A. A. A. (J. B. A. A.) at the regatta to be held at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, on July 2, 3 and 4, left on this afternoon's boat. Many club members and their friends were at the wharf and gave them a hearty send-off.

The personnel of the crew is as follows:

Four—A. R. Morton (stroke), N. Gowan (3), O. Falconer (2), O. Tanner (bow).

Double—R. Columbine (stroke), H. S. Flett (bow).

These crews will row in both junior and senior events.

The many athletes competing in the various events at the big athletic and military tourney to be staged at Oak Bay to-morrow have finished their training and will face the starter in the pink of condition. One of the feature attractions will be the cavalry competition. Several of the entries have competed in the royal military and naval tournament held at the Olympia, including J. T. Marshall, winner of the all-round championship of the British empire for three years in succession; K. Spurgin, also a prize winner at the big tournament; R. A. Meakin, late instructor in the Northwest Mounted Police, and R. N. Rant, in addition to other well known cavalrymen. The judges for these events are Mr. Justice Irving, Dr. W. Bapty and Capt. W. J. Rant.

The cycle races are bringing out such well known riders as J. B. Hancock, T. Peden, M. Harris and G. W. Griffin.

The relay race promises to be very keenly contested, five teams representing various athletic clubs and military organizations being entered.

Owing to the length of the programme it will be necessary to start the first heat of the 100 yards sharp at the advertised time, 2 p.m. Any entry not at the starting point when race is called will forfeit his chance of competing.

Six boxing contests will complete the afternoon sports. These events will be staged on a specially constructed ring, immediately in front of the centre of the grandstand. Lester Patrick will referee.

The programme is so arranged that the boxing will start immediately after the presentation by Mrs. W. H. Coy of prizes for the athletic and military events.

Excellent prizes have been donated for the St. Andrews' and Caledonian Society athletic meet which will be held at the Willows to-morrow afternoon. The entries have been coming in splendidly, and the committee in charge looks for a record-breaking meet. The usual dancing and Scottish events will be included in the programme, while as an added attraction there will be two running races in which the pick of the local horses will be entered. A special car service to the Willows will be provided to handle the crowds.

HOLIDAY SPORTS

Baseball—Royal Athletic park, two games, 10.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m.

Military tourney—Oak Bay, 2 p.m.

Caledonian sports—Willows, 2 p. m.

Cricket—Vancouver Island eleven, at Vancouver.

MITCHELL IS AFTER BOUT WITH BAYLEY

Canadian Title at Stake When Vaise and O'Leary Meet; Holiday Contests

Kid Mitchell, of Chicago, the Battling Greek, is now after a match with Joe Bayley at catch-weights. Mitchell endeavored to arrange a bout with Frank Barrieau, but the Terminal City welterweight has several scraps on his hands just now, so that the Windy City lad has turned to Bayley. He had an interview with Morris Condon to-day, but the latter declined to give him an answer. Bayley is a lightweight fighter and it would be suicidal for him to give away any poundage to a husky welterweight like Mitchell.

Frenchie Vaise, of Renton, lightweight champion of Canada and Johnny O'Leary, of Seattle, meet to-morrow at the Brighouse Arena. O'Leary, if in the same condition as when he stopped Joe Bayley, will wrest the title from the Renton Frenchman, but he will have to be in shape. Vaise is a boy who trains earnestly for a fight and will be in the best possible condition for the bout. Johnny Coulon, former bantamweight title-holder, will referee the bout.

Chet Neff, of Seattle, who fought Vaise to a draw recently in the Sound city, and Rough House Charlie Burns, of Vancouver, meet in a fifteen-round bout on Dominion Day at Prince Rupert. Frank Barrieau, the crack Vancouver welterweight, travels to Lillooet to meet Romeo Hagen, of Seattle, in a fifteen-round bout.

July 4 will be a busy day for the boxers. Kid Williams will defend his bantamweight title against Kid Herman in a twenty-round bout at New Orleans. George Chip and Billy Murray will battle twenty rounds at San Francisco, and the bout is being advertised as for the world's middleweight title. Jack Dillon will meet George "Knockout" Brown in a ten-round encounter at Gary, Ia. Abe Attell will attempt to come back. He will meet Chick Hayes for ten rounds at Evansville, Ind.

Jimmy Clabby and Eddie McGoorty were to fight in Australia but later reports state that McGoorty refuses to meet the Hammond boy, and it is probable that Jeff Smith will substitute.

Los Angeles, June 30.—Ad Wolgast broke his arm yesterday. The Rivers-Wolgast fight, which was to have taken place here on July 4 has thus been postponed. Wolgast will be forced to remain idle two or three months before he can fight again.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE TEAMS WILL CLASH

On account of the Victoria-Tacoma game on Thursday evening it will be impossible for the Bapco-Outlaw game to take place as scheduled. Great interest is being taken in this game, so new arrangements have been made by securing the Royal Athletic park for next Sunday morning. The game will be called promptly at 10.

The standing of the two clubs at present is: Bapco won 4, lost 1; Outlaws won 2, lost 0. The Outlaw organization defeated the Bapcos in the opening game of the season by one run.

The Teams.

Bapcos—B. Robertson, Ken. Surplice, Bray, Russell, Gravlin, Milne, James, Burns, Worthington.

Outlaws—Dinsdale, McGregor, Lane, Petticrew, Procknough, Cummings, Johns, Lalonde, McIlmoyl.

Manager Poulin Shifts Team to Add Scoring Strength to Local Twelve

Victoria will make a final effort to remain in the running for the Mann cup to-morrow afternoon at Westminster when the locals meet the Salmon Bellies in a P. C. A. L. A. game. Manager Poulin announces a number of changes in the local twelve, and he thinks that with an even break in luck, the Victoria men will be returned winners. The team leaves to-night for the mainland, the lineup being: Whyte, goal; E. McDonald, point; E. Cotton, cover; Okell (capt.), 1st defence; Taylor, 2nd defence; Redgrave, 3rd defence; White, centre; Johnson, 3rd home; J. Baker or J. Mitchell, 2nd home; C. Baker, 1st home; McCarter, outside home; Petticrew, inside home.

Vancouver, June 30.—Professional lacrosse on the Pacific coast is as dead as the proverbial door nail. The fact that two years ago players were drawing down a weekly stipend ranging from $25 to $50, as compared with $30 per player for a total of five matches played to date in the British Columbia league, is sufficient to convince any enthusiast that interest in the game is waning.

Doughy Spring writes from Toronto that there is not one team in the "Big Four" that would be able to lift the Minto cup from New Westminster.

But right after him comes a statement from Jimmy Murphy that the Rosedales of Toronto are sure cup-lifters if they decide to make the western journey in the fall.

Joe Lally has been silent for a month, but after the decision of the amateur union re Kendall reaches him, there will be something like a tornado down Cornwall way. Joe doesn't like even the supreme body interfering with his plans at all.

TEAM RECORDS

That the Bees have been out-lucked in their first few months may be guessed from the table of single-run victories to the credit of the different teams in the Northwestern league. Victoria dropped no less than fifteen contests by a single tally up to two weeks ago, and since then has dropped three. The Bees have also been shut out oftener than any club in the league, but most of these defeats were sustained before Owner Kingham strengthened the team. The following summary tells of the work that the different teams are doing.

ROBERTSON LEADER IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

Chicago, June 30.—Baseball averages published here show that C. Walker and Ty Cobb, of Detroit, still share leading batting honors in the American league with an average of .349 each. In the first ten hitters of the circuit follow:

Vitt, Detroit, .333; Baker, Philadelphia, .326; Crawford, Detroit, .325; Jackson, Cleveland, .323; E. Walker, St. Louis, .321; Coveleskie, Detroit, .300; Shotten, St. Louis, .299; Lelivett, Cleveland, .297.

Philadelphia with .259 and Detroit with .251 lead in club batting. Maisel, of New York, with 26 has most stolen bases. Hall, Detroit; Plank, Philadelphia, and Leonard, Boston, rank as three leading pitchers in the American league. Hall has four won and one lost; Plank seven and two and Leonard nine and three.

Robertson, of New York, leads the batters of the National league, with .405. In the first ten they are: C. Miller, St. Louis, .364; Hummel, Brooklyn, .362; Steele, St. Louis, .357; Dalton, Brooklyn, .348; Euberfeld, Brooklyn, .343; Bryne, Philadelphia, .336; Grant, New York, .329; G. Burns, New York, .326; Daubert, Brooklyn, .318. Manager Herzog continues to lead in stolen bases with 27. Club batting leadership is held by Philadelphia at .266 and New York is second with .261.

Mathewson is real leader among the pitchers with 11 victories and three defeats, and it is noteworthy that in the 115 innings he has pitched he has issued only 12 passes. Pfeffer, of Brooklyn, and Doak, of St. Louis, have won six and lost two each.

FEAR AMERICAN CREWS.

Henley-on-Thames, Eng., June 30.—British river experts, after seeing the work of the Harvard university second eight and the Union Boat club of Boston crew, expressed fears to-day that they would be able to prevent the Grand Challenge cup from crossing the Atlantic this year. They had an opportunity of comparing the rowing of both American eights with that of the English crews, and the remarkable speed developed by the trans-Atlantic oarsmen surprised the English aquatic sportsmen.

SCANLON A REGULAR BEES PLAYING WELL

Delmas Pleased With Victoria Team's Work; Steele and Driscoll in Form

"Scanlon will remain at third just as long as he continues to hit the way he has been doing on the road. I think the fans will be agreeably surprised at the way First-Baseman Kelly is now pounding the ball" was Manager Delmas' statement as he viewed his proteges go through a workout this morning. "The team played beautiful ball on the road, and Coveleskie was indeed lucky to get away with the first game on Sunday. McHenry has twirled two beautiful games for the team, while Steele and Driscoll are as good as any in the league. The team did not make any runs for Narveson or Smith, but the men were fighting all the time."

Spokane, June 30.—Wagner's home run in the ninth inning of yesterday's game gave the locals a 6 to 5 victory over Portland. Callahan, Portland's left fielder, in going after Wagner's drive, crashed into the fence, and was rendered unconscious. He was not seriously injured:

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Portland	5	11	1
Spokane	6	14	1

Vancouver, June 30.—Vancouver outhit Seattle yesterday, but Dell kept the hits scattered while Clark was hard hit at critical stages, the visitors winning the first game of the series, 4 to 2.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Vancouver	2	7	1
Seattle	4	5	2

Batteries.—Clark, Harstad and Cheek; Dell and Cadman.

Dave Robertson, New York's pinch hitter, is the latest National league sensation. He is being heralded as another Ed Delhanty, a Hans Wagner and a Cobb rolled into one. Three times recently Robertson has been called on in a pinch, and on each of these occasions he more than made good. Some one was put in to bat for Snodgrass the other day. On the impulse of the moment McGraw decided to let Robertson play the rest of the game in the outfield and now it is probable he will remain there all season. Robertson, who started out as a pitcher, came to the Giants from the Southern league with a batting average of .350 for last season.

Batting averages among the regular Coast league players are gradually falling. Justin Fitzgerald, who is the real leader of the circuit at present, has a mark of .337, with Buddy Ryan in second place, as he is hitting at a .333 clip. Fisher with .312, Derrick with .304 and Doane with .306 are the only other Portland players within the .300 circle.

In spite of the bad week at Sacramento, Portland is still leading the league in team hitting, although Kores, Lober and Rodgers have all slumped in their hitting. Bancroft has raised his record up to .288.

O'Leary, Leard and Moran are leading the sacrifice hitters, while Bayless and Tobin have secured the most home runs. Carlisle still tops the run-getters with 52 in 72 games and Rodgers has stolen 30 bases in 69 games.

Chicago, June 30.—A special message from St. Louis announced the sale by the Chicago Federals of Infielder Jimmy Stanley and Outfielder Austin Walsh to the St. Louis Federals.

WINNIPEG CREW NOW CONSIDERED FINALISTS

Henley-on-Thames, June 30.—The Winnipeg Rowing Club crew, which created a very favorable impression in its trial on Saturday, will meet the Thames Rowing Club in the first round of the grand challenge cup on Thursday. The Winnipeg men should easily qualify for the second round, in which case they will have worthy opponents in either Harvard University or the Union Boat Club, of Boston, Mass.

In the diamond sculls, Dibble, of Toronto, meets Scrumon on Wednesday, and if successful should be in the final. Dibble, who is in the best of condition, passed over the course yesterday with Ernest Barry, his coach.

The Union Boat Club, of Boston, and the Harvard University eight had spins over the course yesterday. Both showed good form.

GARRISON CRICKETER REGISTERS A CENTURY

Gunner Ingle, of the Garrison Incognito eleven, scored 113 against the Restorer C. C. on Saturday, his big total enabling the Garrison eleven to score an easy win. The finals were 182 to 127. Woods, of the Restorer team, scored 61 by hard hitting.

St. Michael's School Students were defeated by their parents at Oak Bay, the latter winning by 22 runs.

To-morrow afternoon the Vancouver Island eleven will play at the Terminal City in the first of the inter-league matches for 1914. On Saturday the regular league fixtures will be resumed.

The Five C.'s club will play the Garrison second eleven on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 on the Civil Service pitch, Beacon Hill park. The Five C.'s team will be: W. Lamb, G. Anthony, J. Clowes, S. Marshall, P. Payne, O. Thomas, H. Greely, B. Butler, L. Meehan, A. E. Chandler and S. Fosberry. B. Martin, G. M. Hemsworth and S. Swabey, reserves.

WESTS TRIUMPH.

North Wards tasted their first defeat of the season last evening at the hands of Victoria Wests in an Intermediate league game, the score being 6-5. Todd, in the box for the winners, was in rare form and held the Wards helpless until the fifth inning. They tallied five runs, which, however, was not enough to win. Taylor started for the Wards, but was batted hard, and Balcom relieved him.

The Red Sox won from the Bissell nine in a ragged game at the Royal Athletic park last evening, the score being 16-6.

ENGLISH TENNIS.

Wimbledon, Eng., June 30.—Miss E. Ryan, of California, to-day beat Miss H. Aitchison in one of the semi-finals of the English ladies' lawn tennis singles championship by 6-4, 6-3. Miss Ryan will meet in the finals Mrs. Larcombe, champion of 1912. The winner plays the titleholder, Mrs. Lambert Chambers.

JONES SIGNS.

Spokane, June 30.—Wesley L. Jones nephew of Senator Jones, has signed a contract to pitch for the Spokane Indians. Jones has been pitching amateur ball for the Grandview team and has been doing well. He will report at once to Spokane and is expected to work this week against Portland if he shows ability.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Victoria Team Playing Better Ball.

There is a saying that a team that can win half its games on the road can win a pennant. Victoria, therefore, is entitled to a little consideration in the final settlement for the Jones bunting, as the team has just returned home from a road trip in which the wins and losses were even. The outstanding feature of the series was the great hitting of a couple of youngsters, Kelly and Scanlon, both of whom will add greatly to the strength of the team if they can only keep up their brilliant stick-work. Victoria looks better than Tacoma for this week's series. The Bees must win several games on the home lot to get an even break on the series, as the Bees finish the week at Tacoma.

Brampton Uncovers Huge Surprise.

While it was known that the Brampton twelve that came to the coast after the Mann cup was a heavy checking aggregation, there were few who figured that the easterners could stand a long road trip, go into a hard match two days later, and win by the odd goal. Brampton deserves great credit for its magnificent struggle and the win will make it doubly harder for the V. A. C. twelve to overhaul that slender lead, for the easterners will go into the game with a determination to win at all costs. It will be a sad blow to coast lacrosse to have the invaders carry off the cup, and if the professional series does not brighten, the eastern champions will have to be feared this fall, for both the Nationals and Rosedales will make a big bid for the silverware.

A Last Effort on Johnson's Part.

If the stories which the special correspondents sent over the wires on Saturday regarding the Johnson-Moran fiasco are correct, the former world's champion must indeed be a pitiable spectacle. The bout has a decidedly queer look, and the fact that Johnson was unable to dispose of Moran inside of twenty rounds demonstrates conclusively that the former unbeatable colored fighter is now but a shadow of his former self. In his palmy days Johnson would have put Moran away inside the limit with ease. Moran has never made a very great record and he has been beaten by a number of fighters. Gunboat Smith would have stepped into a soft berth had he been chosen to fight Johnson and the white race would have had the honor of once more wearing the heavyweight pugilistic crown. Johnson is about done and it appears as if his effort on Saturday was a last endeavor upon his part to gather in the golden she

The good people of a certain small village had always been of opinion that one good turn deserves another, and they were very much disgusted when on a recent occasion they learnt that this proverb has its limits. Foxes were rather scarce in the district, and the followers of a certain hunt, after a time, were delighted to get on the trail of a fox, but after a five minutes' run found themselves pulled up in a meadow belonging to the village baker by a high gate which was secured by a padlock. "Open that gate!" shouted the master of the hounds. "You'll have to jump it!" rejoined the baker. "Nonsense, man, it would be dangerous to attempt it. You must open it." "Them fellows on the other side," explained the baker, "are our ambulance class, and that gate is meant to be dangerous. We've found you a fox, and we reckon on you to find us one or two accidents. 'Ave a cut at it, gentlemen," he added appealingly: "we ain't had such a chance for a twelvemonth."—Weekly Telegraph.

"Bon Accord," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Christie, 845 Princess avenue, was the scene of an interesting wedding last evening when Rev. Dr. Campbell, wearing the uniform of Captain of His Majesty's forces and chaplain of the 50th regiment, Gordon Highlanders (now in camp at Point Macaulay), celebrated the marriage of William James Beeston, postmaster of Southport, England, and Maggie, daughter of Robert Abercrombie, retired merchant of Glasgow, Scotland. The bride, gowned in embroidered voile, looked very handsome as she came into the drawing-room leaning on the arm of Mr. Packard, who, in the absence of her father, gave her away. She was accompanied by Miss Lily Stewart Christie, who, dressed in white satin, made a very pretty bridesmaid. The bridegroom was attended by James H. C. Hughes as best man. Afterwards a dainty supper was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Beeston left by the midnight boat for Vancouver and a tour of the Sound cities, on their return from which they will take up their residence in Vancouver.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock a very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Eve, Empress avenue, when their brother, Ernest Eve, of Victoria, son of Mrs. Eve of London, England, and Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Motheral, of Spokane, were united in marriage. Rev. Dr. Campbell was the officiating minister. The bride looked very pretty in a gracefully-draped gown of silk crepe de chine trimmed with shadow lace and pearls, and white tulle veil fastened in place with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses, and was attended by her sister, Miss Jessie Motheral, who wore a suit of Alice blue with hat to match. James Eve acted as best man. After the ceremony there was an informal gathering of friends of the bride and bridegroom, to wish them joy and Godspeed on their honeymoon, which is being spent in a visit to Seattle and Tacoma. On their return they will make their home in Victoria, where both the young people are well known, the bride having lived for the past year at the Y. W. C. A.

PITHY PARAGRAPHS

Old Bije Wilson was the sole proprietor of a balky horse down in Missouri. The fact was pretty well known throughout the neighborhood, and Bije couldn't have disposed of that horse even to David Harum, who bought a horse that would "stand without hitching." One day a neighbor drove up behind Bije, who was stalled, as usual. It was a narrow embankment and there was no room to pass. The neighbor accepted the situation philosophically. Every now and then Bije's horse would turn his head and as promptly Bije would shy a pebble at it. It seemed that the box bed of his "side bar" buggy was loaded with pebbles. "What'er ye doin' that fer, Bije?" the neighbor asked. "That won't start 'im." "Wall, ye see," Bije answered, "I don't mind a hawse balkin' now and then, but I'll be durned if he can turn around and grin at me about it."

Mrs. Long.—"You are going out, are you not" Mr. Long.—"Yes, my dear," Mrs. L.—"Well, I wish you'd drop into Brown & Company's on your way and match the——" Mr. L., hurriedly—"I've got to see Jones, and that will take me some distance from Brown & Company's." Mrs. L.—"Well, Mr. Jones's office is only a short distance from the Finery Bazaar, and that will do just as well. Take this and ask——" Mr. L., hastily—"After leaving Jones I must see Smith, who lives in the opposite direction to the Bazaar, you know." Mrs. L.—"No matter! Green's will do. They are near Smiths." Mr. L.—"But I've got to take a roundabout way to Smith's in order to see Brown, my dear." Mrs. L., impatiently—"H'm! Where are you going after you leave Smith's?" Mr. L., helplessly—"I'm going up in an aeroplane!"

An American visitor to England has been complaining of the failure of our hotels to provide sufficient telephones and bathrooms. Americans are never tired of finding fault with our hotels, though they continue to support life in them. When the Midland hotel was opened in Manchester, it is said, an American was taken to see it by a proud Mancunian. He looked at it from all sides and then, says the Daily Dispatch, expressed the opinion that it was too large. The native was gratified by this criticism but ventured the opinion that there must be hotels in America as large. Hotels, gasped the American. "Is that there an hotel? I thought it was the ticket office for the Central station. That's what made me say it seemed large for its work."

A North-country publican, taking a stroll one Sunday morning before opening time, met one of his customers wheeling a barrow. "Morning, Bill," he said. "Where ta bound with barrow?" Bill put the barrow down, and, seating himself on the handle, said, slowly: "Well, tha sees, it's like this, Mr. Gearge. My pal's gone away for a week-end, the dawg's gone an' died, and a chap looks such a fool walking about by hissen, so I brought t'barrow out."

The two men came running at top speed towards the station, where the train that would run them to town in a few minutes was steaming ready to start. As they reached the station door, says the Manchester Guardian, the whistle sounded and the train was off. Gasping for breath, the one said to the other with cheery good humor, "Eh, Jim lad, tha didna run fast enough." "Yea, ah did," Jim instantly replied, "but ah didna start soon enough."

Travelers' tales of queer railways and railway stations were passing. One of the company topped the bill. This, says the Manchester Guardian, was his story. "I was in the west of Ireland, and travelled the full length—ten miles—of a mono railway there. When the passengers were all seated the guard came along and ordered a number of us to get out and sit on the other side because there was a bad list to starboard. Out we got, crossed the line by a bridge that the train drags along with it, and away. There was a truck with two cows in behind me—one cow each side of the line, of course, to balance. The one immediately behind me breathed down my neck all the way. But the funniest thing was when the train stopped in the middle of the fields, about a mile from the terminus. 'You can get out and have a drink at the inn,' said the guard; 'them's the chimneys of it beyant the hill.' 'Funny thing, isn't it?' I said. 'Not at all,' he replied; it's our manager's inn.'"

"I count myself fortunate," says a minister, "in numbering among my parishioners several who invariably tell me the truth about myself. Of a certain worthy, but uneducated, woman of my flock I asked whether she liked best my written or my unwritten sermons. She reflected for a moment, and then replied: 'I like you best without the book, because you keep saying the same thing over and over, and that helps me to remember.'"

Surnames began to be used first among the nobility in 1200.

Renewed Vigor in Old Age

This Letter Brings a Message of Cheer to the Aged—Results of Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

New, rich blood is what is most needed in the declining years to keep up energy and vitality. That Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a wonderful help in maintaining good health and prolonging life is attested by the writer of this letter.

Mr. Stephen J. Leard, North Tryon, P. E. I., writes: "At seventy-five years of age my heart gave out and became very irregular and weak in action and would palpitate. My nerves also became weak, and I could do nothing but lie in bed in a languishing condition, losing strength and weight. In that condition I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and am cured. Had I not obtained this treatment I would now be in the box with the roof over my nose. At eighty-one I have an energy which means go, and I am writing this letter so that old people like myself may prolong their health and strength by using this great medicine." 50c a box, 6 for $2.50. Health and Beauty Aids

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

MARGUERITE: You should make up and use this harmless eye-tonic and you will have no further trouble with your eyes: In 1 pint clear water dissolve 1 ounce crystos. Put 2 or 3 drops in each eye twice a day for a while and the smart and ache will entirely disappear. The crystos tonic will give almost instant relief to tired, aching eye-muscles and its timely use frequently overcomes the need for glasses.

PRISCILLA: The old-fashioned kardene tonic is Nature's best helper, and a course of treatment of this famous blood cleanser and tissue-builder restores strength and vitality to the weak, wan, worn body. It is easily and cheaply made at home—just dissolve ½ cupful sugar and 1 ounce kardene in ½ pint alcohol (not whiskey), then add hot water to make a full quart. The dose is a tablespoonful before each meal. This tonic restores lost appetite, builds up and strengthens the body, gives to the skin a clear, healthy glow and guards against bodily ills.

MRS. A. I. M.: To retain the velvety smoothness and healthy tint of the complexion, apply daily a spurmax lotion, made by dissolving 4 ounces spurmax in ½ pint witch hazel or hot water, to which is added 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. This protects the perfect complexion and will make a "muddy," oily or blotchy skin clear and pleasingly beautiful.

MRS. DE L.: If you are getting too fat mix together 4 ounces parnotis and 1½ pints hot water. When cool, strain and take 1 tablespoonful before meals until weight is where you want it. This is a safe, harmless method of fat reduction and does not depend on dieting or unusual exercising. The parnotis treatment is gentle in action and restores the symmetrical lines to the figure.

MARIE L.: Electric scalp massages will not do as much for your scalp as will a plain quinzoin hair-tonic, made by adding 1 ounce quinzoin (which you can get at your drug store) to ½ pint alcohol, in which is then poured ½ pint water. Manipulate the scalp thoroughly when you use this tonic and you will be surprised how quickly the dry, scaly condition will disappear. Then, too, this treatment will restore the proper lustre and soft fluffiness to your hair. I unhesitatingly recommend this quinzoin tonic for dandruff, faded, streaky or grey hair, because of the great good it has done for others.

CITY GIRL: Yes, some soaps have a tendency to rob the scalp of all its oil, and frequently causing a mild form of eczema. Get from your druggist a small, original package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, then pour this mixture on the head slowly and rub well. The thick, cleansing lather will dissolve all dust, dandruff and excess oil and greatly invigorate the scalp and hair roots. Rinsing leaves the scalp immaculately clean, while the hair dries quickly and is greatly enriched in color and brilliancy. Canthrox shampoos, if used regularly, will correct all scalp troubles and induce the hair to grow in thick and beautiful.

EVE: Wrinkles and premature age marks are quickly erased from the skin by the following treatment: Into ½ pint cold water dissolve 1 ounce almozoin and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Let stand one day, then at night apply generously to skin covering the wrinkles. This protects the surface and stimulates the blood vessels just beneath the skin and so energizes the starved tissues underneath the creases that they gradually assume their proper size—then the wrinkles or lines will have vanished. As a skin-cleanser and rejuvenator of the complexion, the almozoin cream-jelly is not equalled. All blemishes, blackheads, skin roughness and sallowness vanish as if by magic.

The funeral of little five months old Baby Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Clarke, 739 Pembroke street, took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, and later from St. Andrew's cathedral, Rev. Father Laterme conducting the services. The Sands Funeral parlors had charge of the arrangements.

City is Blamed.—There were a dozen cases against citizens for failing to cut down thistles on their property heard in the police court to-day, and there are a number of other owners who are being called on to attend on later days this week.

FIFTH ENDS MOST SUCCESSFUL CAMP

Popular Regiment Ends Training To-night; Splendid Big Gun Work Done

After what has been the most successful and most largely attended camp in the history of the city's pioneer militia regiment, the Fifth Regiment C. G. A., camp will be broken this evening, and at half-past seven o'clock the men will march back into town and will disband at the drill hall. There have been 319 men in annual training here, and thirty-five, who are absent with the civil aid force at Nanaimo and Ladysmith, are taking the training there under service conditions.

No. 1 company fired in the competitive series last evening, and made a splendid record so far as could be judged by a lay spectator. There were misfires in each series, which are blamed to faulty ammunition, but it is believed that when the marks for this company and No. 2 are made up it will be found that they have fully maintained their position as the best units of garrison artillery in the Dominion. The smartness and efficiency of the gunners in the two companies have never been higher than at the present, and their work in the competitive series this year has demonstrated this. No. 3 company did fine work with the movable armament, its scoring being very high and adding materially to the general record of the regiment.

A smoking concert was held by the men of No. 1 company in the sergeants' mess last night after the firing was over.

The dummy loading competition between the batteries of No. 1 company which was held on Saturday night has resulted in a win by one point for the Black Rock battery, under Lieut. N. Crockett and gun captains Sergeants Hawkins and S. R. Bowden. They thus win the imperial defence cup presented by Gore & McGregor for the second year in succession. The cup and prize money was presented to Sergt. Bowden on behalf of his battery at parade last evening by Mrs. J. Herrick McGregor.

One of the field guns which was with the civil aid force will proceed back to Nanaimo with its crew, in charge of Lieut. Bovill, on Wednesday morning. On Wednesday night the detachment will bivouac in the vicinity of Mill Bay, and on Thursday near Westholme, arriving at its destination on Friday morning.

The regiment was under command of Lieut.-Col. W. N. Winsby for the first time in camp, with Majors R. Angus, J. Chester Harris and H. H. Woolison. The staff consisted of the following officers and non-commissioned officers: Adjutant, Capt. R. P. Clark; medical officer, Captain H. M. Robertson, M. D.; chaplain, Capt. the Rev. W. Barton; quartermaster, Lieut. H. Lettice; Reg. Q.-M.-Sergt., J. Caven; Reg. Sergt.-Major, S. M. Macdougall, W. O.; paymaster sergeant, C. W. Hollyer; orderly room sergeant, Staff-Sergt. R. O. Clarke; hospital sergeant, S. Carr; bandmaster, W. J. Smith.

TO HAVE BRANCH HERE

J. W. Stewart, of Monarch Life Assurance Co., Arranges Office for Island.

To establish a branch for Vancouver Island of the Monrach Life Assurance company, whose head offices are at Winnipeg, J. W. W. Stewart, managing director, is in the city to-day accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Stewart. The company will have offices in the B. C. Permanent Loan block, Horace J. Knott being the resident manager.

Mr. Stewart brings a report of more optimistic conditions in the middle west than have ruled for some time. The improvement is not rapid but is consistent and promises a revival of trade, the effects of which will be permanent throughout the west. One effect of the stringency has been to assure the payment of premiums, for policy-holders recognize that with added liabilities their responsibility to keep up their payments is even greater than in times of excessive speculation. The directors receive more business than could be expected at present, and as one who holds positions on the boards of trust companies he adds that the experience is that payments of mortgages are being well maintained.

Filling the field of western institutions for western men, Mr. Stewart states that the western life offices are handling an increasing amount of business. They are able to earn more on their investments than eastern and outside companies, while maintaining a conservative tendency in their investments, which are periodically checked by the Dominion inspectors. The confidence of policy-holders in the western companies need have no slackening through false fear of the large rates of interest earned.

Mr. Stewart thinks that a large number of prairie people, most of them in comfortable circumstances, will settle here in the near future. More Winnipeg citizens are likely to come here, adding to the beautiful residences before next winter.

PRIZES AWARDED AT ST. GEORGE'S SCHOOL

Bishop of Columbia Presents Awards; High Standards Maintained

Prize-giving took place yesterday at St. George's school, the Bishop of Columbia presiding as chairman and a large number of the parents and friends of the girls being present for the occasion. On the platform with the bishop were Mrs. Roper, the Very Rev. the Dean of Columbia, Mrs. Doull, the Rev. E. G. Miller, Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay, and Mr. and Mrs. Suttie.

In speaking to the pupils, the bishop expressed congratulations on the splendid standard attained during the term just closed, and reminded the girls that sports should not be given too leading a position. The high position of the school had been attained in the short period of six years. It was proposed, owing to the increasing business of the school and the heavy work entailed thereby for Miss Suttie, to turn the school into a company with a committee to superintend the business. This would, however, in no way effect the educational courses, which would still aspire to the same high ideal.

The scholastic and sports prizes were then distributed. Tea was served in the garden, Mrs. Macklin having charge of this and C. Macklin of the ice cream.

Prizes were distributed as follows:

Form VI.—Term, Kathryn Bradshaw; Exam., Marjorie Tennant.

Form V.—Term, Mildred Johnston.

Form IV(a)—Term, Virtue Errington; Exam., Violet Taylor.

Form IV(b)—Term, Kathleen Muir; Exam., Irene Tennant.

Form III.—Term, Laura Macklin; Exam., Laura Macklin.

Form II.—Term, Madge Deane; Exam., Christine Corker.

Form I.—First prize, Helen Dobie; second prize, Marion Cameron.

Highest number of stars—Senior, Virtue Errington; junior, Christine Corker.

Drawing prize (presented by Miss Galland), Virtue Errington; history prize (presented by Mrs. Scott), Dorothy Bowes; Scripture senior prices (presented by Mrs. Macklin), 1, Marjorie Tennant; 2, Kathryn Bradshaw; junior prizes, 1, Laura Macklin; 2, Margaret Campbell.

Sewing prizes (presented by Mrs. Macklin), 1, Jessie Chetham; 2 and 3, (presented by Mrs. Lee), Norma Christie and Janetta Skillings, respectively.

Prizes for conduct (decided according to votes of the pupils themselves), Gertie Kidd, senior; (presented by Mr. Symons), Mona Miller, junior; Emily Hanington, preparatory; Greta Dunne, boarders.

Prizes for attendance (presented by Mrs. Scott), Regina Verrinder, Jill Lloyd-Young, Winnie Lee, Laura Macklin, Madge Lloyd-Young, Margaret Campbell.

For amenability to school discipline (presented by H. Lloyd-Young)—Doris Macklin.

The following won various prizes presented for sports events: M. Campbell (cup presented by Mrs. Lee); R. Balcom (camera presented by Mrs. Duke); G. Verrinder (tennis racket presented by Mr. Errington); J. Skillings (cup presented by Dr. Verrinder); M. Deane (photo frame presented by Mrs. Lee); V. Winners of the tennis tournaments were: Senior, V. Taylor vs. V. Errington, won; junior, G. Dunne vs. K. Muir, won.

ROYAL BETROTHAL AND ROMANTIC ALLIANCES

Europe Takes Lively Interest in Reported Engagement of Prince Alexander

The report from London, although yet unconfirmed, that Prince Alexander of Battenberg is to marry Countess Zia Torby recalls the romantic loves of their parents, Grand Duke Michael Michaelovitch and the Countess Torby and Princes Henry of Battenberg and Princess Beatrice of England.

The son of one emperor and uncle of another were sent into exile and a petty German princeling married the daughter of Europe's most powerful sovereign. Curiously enough, a morganatic marriage, which was the cause of the Grand Duke Michael's loss of favor, was the foundation of the rise of the Battenbergs. And still more interesting, the marriage of Prince Alexander and the Countess Zia, if it takes place, will make the issue of the grand duke's morganatic marriage the sister-in-law of the queen of Spain.

For the last twenty years the accounts of the fashionable folk at the various winter and summer resorts on the continent, in London during the season and in the shires at hunting time have included the names of the Grand Duke Michael of Russia and the Countess Torby. No function was complete without the presence of the tall, slender, silent black-beard man and the radiant, beautiful blonde woman, for love of whom he became an expatriate.

Their villa at Nice was the centre of that semi-royal life that is found along the Riveria in January and February. Homburg saw them when the late King Edward made his annual visits. Trouville and Deauville welcomed them after they finished the Paris season with the Grande Semaine.

In the London season they were seen at the opera and attended all the smart balls and dinners. At their country house the week-end parties were the gayest and most fashionable.

But they never went to Russia. The punishment meted out to the Grand Duke Michael by the czar for defying the head of the Romanoffs and marrying the beautiful woman he loved who did not happen to be of royal birth was expatriation. In his case love brought exile.

But with the father of young Prince Alexander of Battenberg love was more kind. Prince Henry was of a far more retiring nature than his brother, Prince Louis, the popular sailor, and inclined to studious pursuits. Princess Beatrice, youngest daughter of Queen Victoria and her constant companion, fell in love with the blond young German. The British public did not relish the proposed alliance, and there were many sneers at the audacity of a German princeling aspiring to the hand of an English royal princess. Even the government of that day did not regard the marriage favorably, but Queen Victoria had her way and overcame all opposition to make her daughter happy.

The princes of Battenberg also owed their title to a morganatic marriage. The original counts of Battenberg were a German family, whose seat was the castle of Kellerburg, near the town of Battenberg, in the new Prussian province of Hesse-Nassau. The title, Count of Battenberg, became extinct in 1314.

Alexander, a younger son of Louis II., grand duke of Hesse, fell madly in love with a Polish beauty, the Countess Julia Theresa von Hanke, whom he married morganatically in 1851. The bride was created Countess of Battenberg by the grand duke, who in 1858 raised her rank to that of princess, and gave to her and her children the right to style themselves Princes and Princesses of Battenberg, with the prefix of Serene Highness.

Prince Henry Maurice, their third son, left three sons, the eldest of whom is Prince Alexander. His one daughter, Victoria Eugenie, named for her grandmother and the Empress Eugenie, is now the queen of Spain.

PILGRIMAGE TO THE SHRINE OF HOPE

THOUSANDS WHO VISIT LOURDES EVERY YEAR

Sufferers From Every Land Go With Wistful Eagerness; Procession of Sacrament

Six hundred thousand pilgrims visit Lourdes every year. They come from all quarters of the globe, and they come with all manner of diseases, bodily and mental. They are of every race, of every tongue, and of every class; but one great common bond unites them, welding them into a veritable army of faith—the bond of hope.

Hope, indeed, is of the atmosphere of this strange shrine., says a correspondent of the London Times. Men and women who have lost heart after long battle with disease and death, who have been "given up" by the famous physicians of every Eurcopen country, by their friends, even by their own reason, find again the thrill of life and all that life means in this world-famous little town at the foot of the Pyrenees. They come not sadly, but with a wistful eagerness which is touching in the extreme, and which in certain instances seems to plumb the deeps of pathos. One feels that a force of will has been released that must conquer every obstacle—or be dissipated finally in the attempt.

Lourdes has a population of some 8,000 inhabitants, and until the vision of the peasant girl, Bernadette Soubirous, in 1858 was a second class fortification known for its marble and slate quarries and for the fine breed of Aquitaine cattle which its rich pastures support. The castle, which, from its rock on the banks of the Gave de Pau, dominates the town, and which at one time was used as a state prison, is now merely an ordinary goal. The ancient glory has departed; but the new glory is much greater than the old.

The Miracle of the Virgin.

The grotto in which the appearances of the Virgin Mary are believed to have taken place is now to all intents and purposes Lourdes. A statue of the Virgin stands on a rock projecting above it, and its walls are covered with crutches and other votive offerings. In addition a basilica, consecrated in 1876, is set high above the grotto, while in front of and below this stands the Church of the Rosary, a rich building in the Byzantine style, erected in 1889. To this spot the eyes of the pilgrims are turned as if drawn by an irresistible force; upon this spot the hopes of the multitudes who throng to the town year after year are confidently set.

With the great snow-clad landscape on the High Pyrenees looming out of the mist to the southward, the slate-green, turbid waters of its rivers, swollen with the heavy rain, running under its bridges, with its old grim castle outlined against the dull sky, the first view of Lourdes is a wonderful experience; but more wonderful still, because so supremely human in its appeal, was the voice of Lourdes that rose in flowing cadence from the direction of the grotto, full of exquisite pathos, "Ave, Ave, Ave, Maria!" Even at a distance I was able to identify the sharp country accent of the singers.

The English pilgrimage from Northumberland and Durham, under the care of the bishop of Newcastle, is now in possession of the town. The Italian, Belgian and Spanish pilgrimages of the last few days have now left. This afternoon they sang with a passionate insistence which was supremely impressive. When they were gathered in front of the Piscina they besought the Virgin to give help in the hour of great trial. One by one the sick and the diseased were carried into the bathing-place. The place became an agony of entreaties—"Mary, save us!"! "Mary, pray for us!" They were Italians, Frenchmen, Belgians and Spaniards mingled among the English folk; and when the toilers from the ends of Europe bowed themselves side by side with the rapture of devotion the scene was distressing beyond all words.

Many of the patients who started with the English pilgrimage are suffering from the direst afflictions. By the kindness of the bishop of Newcatle I was able to examine several of them and talked to them. One unfortunate individual I saw, half of whose face was devoured with lupus. He clawed at the rail of the shrine while he prayed, and the hunger of his eyes was pitiful to look upon. There were cases of paralysis, and the dreaded rheumatoid arthritis. The latter victim is perfectly unable to walk or move hand or foot. A child with water on the brain, terribly deformed, had been brought on a stretcher. A woman came seeking relief from cancer. There was a man with a broken back in the prime of life, but paralyzed from the waist downwards. A little Irish girl, the last of a family of 14, had been brought to seek a cure of hip disease and Bright's disease. The patients were under the care of a doctor who had accompanied the jilgrimage from England, and in addition they are examined by the medical men who are attached to the grotto. While I stood beside the shrine in the morning stretcher after stretcher was placed in front of it, and hundreds upon hundreds of candles lighted in the huge rock beneath the effigy of the Virgin which stands in the sacred cave. Old faces lined with care, young faces covered with disease, children wistful and only half-comprehending, and men and women of the world wearying of sophistication appeared an unending multitude, whispering their anxious petitions, and then finally going their way.

Procession of the Sacrament.

Contrary to what is generally believed, it is not at the pool nor at the grotto itself that the miracles of Lourdes are most frequently wrought. The great manifestation takes place most often during the afternoon procession of the Sacrament, when the officiating bishop bestows his blessing on the large number of sufferers individually. For the supreme event the devotions of the morning are a preparation. In the great square in front of the towering Basilica, facing the chapel of the rosary, the sick during each day of the pilgrimage are laid side by side in long rows to await the coming of the host. Yesterday the scene inside was a most remarkable one. The patients and their friends joined in earnest prayer for health and strength. The clergy passed to and fro amongst them, reciting the Lord's prayer and other intercessionary petitions. These were moments of acute and painful suspense. When the rear of the procession approached, the tension became almost unbearable. Many of the pilgrims broke down altogether. A throbbing of almost agonized entreaty filled the great square.

The procession came. The bishop, under a canopy, carried the host in a golden monstrance. A cry broke from the kneeling people: "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy upon us; Mary, Mother of God, pray for us; Mary, Mother of God, pray for us!" Round and round the square the glittering monstrance passed. The voice of the officiating priest rose and fell in supplication. Silence descended, a great and vivid silence. Has the miracle been wrought? Not at the moment, indeed, but at Lourdes most wonderful miracles have been made, weeks and sometimes months after the pilgrimage at which the process of healing was begun. One could only hope and hope. The sick are carried back to the aisle; the people dispersed; but as I write I hear again and again—I cannot escape from it—that cry of painless death and unquenchable hopes, "Ave, ave, ave Maria!"

ANECDOTE OF FOOTE.

Foote could not bear to see anybody or anything succeed in the Haymarket theatre but himself and his own writings, forgetful that a failure of the new scheme might possibly endanger the regular payment of his annuity. His pique broke out sometimes in downright rudeness. One morning he came upon the stage during the rehearsal of the "Spanish Barber," then about to be produced. The actors were busy in the scene of a piece when one servant is under the influence of a sleeping draught and another of a sneezing powder.

"Well," said Foote, to the manager, "how do you go on?"

"Pretty well," was the answer, "but I cannot teach one of these fellows to gape as he ought to do."

"Can't you," replied Foote. "Then read him your love comedy, 'The Man of Business,' and he'll yawn for a month."

"Bur-reds is intilligent," Mrs. Brannigan observed, as she encountered her friend, Mrs. O'Brian. "Ye can tache 'em annyt'ing. Me sister has wan as lives in a clock, an' whin its tolme to tell th' tolme, it comes out an' says cukoo as manny tolmes as th' tolme is." "Dthot's wondherful!" said Mrs. O'Brian. "It is, indade," said Mrs. Brannigan. "An the wondherful par-rt ov it all is it's only a wooden bur-red at thot!"

SCREAMED WITH THE TERRIBLE PAIN

Fruit-a-tives Completely Cured Distressing Kidney Trouble

St. Thomas, Ont., April 1, 1913.

"In 1911 I was laid up with Kidney Trouble and not able to get out of my chair. Had tried many kidney remedies without satisfactory results. The pain was excruciating and my screams could be heard on the street. One day a friend from Ottawa came to see me, and when he found me in such poor health, said he would send me a sample of 'Fruit-a-tives,' which he did, and I commenced taking them. The results were so apparent with the first few doses that I continued to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and was completely restored to my normal state of health. I would strongly advise anyone suffering with Kidney Trouble to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and cure themselves."

OIL OIL

GENERAL BROKER

People who know me

Address:
Calgary, Alberta
Queen's Hotel

I would be pleased to handle any commissions for my friends and others who desire to transact business in the Oil Fields of Alberta. The chances are good for legitimate speculative profit, but every well will not be a gusher. It will be our endeavor to handle those stocks issued by companies with reputable Directorates and whose holdings are of a nature that give reason for success. Following this policy, the chances are good, but it is always a chance, a chance to lose and a chance to win, like every other business one might enter. By investing now, when companies are honestly working, it is a chance for the rich and the poor. But when Oil has been struck on a well, or there are good properties near a well of that character, the stock of those companies are for men with plenty of money to spare.

A Few Dont's

Don't buy OIL SHARES when you need the money for home.
Don't borrow money to buy OIL SHARES.
Don't buy OIL SHARES and stand off your local merchants.
Don't be sure you are a rich man when you have bought OIL SHARES.
Don't fail to bear in mind that in every Oil Field shares have been from ten cents to dollars, and dropped to nothing; and on the other hand, they have gone up to hundreds and thousands of dollars. Stocks like the Monarch, once one dollar, now forty; the Dingman, once one dollar, now eighty-five dollars; the Southern Alberta, once one dollar, now eight dollars; the Black Diamond, once one dollar, now six and a half dollars; the Stokes-Stephens, once twenty-five cents, now forty-two cents. This illustrates the chances, but the failures are to be also taken into consideration. It is an investment pure and simple, in which the element of chance largely predominates, but if you win you generally have an opportunity of winning big. If you can afford to invest, you can afford to take a chance—if you cannot afford to take the chance, you cannot afford to invest. I want your business, but I want it on the square.

O-T

"No matter what your drink may be, It's better if you add O-T"

THE FINEST DRINK FOR SUMMER

O. T. is a drink, tonic and digestive. It appeals to all abstainers and moderate drinkers. It is a drink for the home—for all the family; for O-T is non-alcoholic. Derived from fruits, spices, and herbs. O-T is wholesome, pure and nutritive.

All the Good Qualities of O-T are not found in any other drink

The enormous success achieved by O-T in Great Britain, Australia, Canada, Africa, India and other countries is proof of its palate quality. The equivalent of 3,250,000 bottles of O-T (120,000,000 drinks) was consumed in 1913. Those who try it will continue to use it because O-T makes a good drink better.

Try O-T at Clubs, Cafes, Hotels, Bars and Restaurants

You can buy O-T in bottles at Wine Merchants, Grocers and Druggists. To have O-T in your home is to be in a position to meet acceptably the demands of hospitality.

Get a bottle of O-T To-Day

With Gin, Whisky, Brandy.
O-T mixed with spirits (using 1-3 spirits and 2-3 O-T) moderates any undesirable effect of the alcohol, and its wonderful blending qualities make a new flavor and charm; without the dash of O-T drinks will be without character, and insipid.

With Lemonade, Soda, Ginger Ale, etc.
Dilute O-T with Lemonade, Soda, etc. (just like Whisky) to make a drink not only pleasing in flavor, thirst-quenching, and stimulating, but also with the "bite" and satisfying body of alcoholic liquors. The distinctive charm of these drinks appeals to all.

With Ale, Beer or Stout.
A dash of O-T in beer or stout is a great improvement; it takes away the heavy, filling effect and increases the good and beneficial properties of all malt liquors, besides reducing the intoxicating effect of the alcohol.

With Wine (Red or White).
O-T added to wines (red or white) intensifies their good qualities and greatly improves their distinctive types and flavors. O-T and sherry is a splendid appetiser, while O-T and port is the best dinner wine.

With Water (Cold or Hot).
O-T diluted with water (hot or cold) is specially valuable for those who do not drink aerated waters, as O-T adds a bite and flavor that completely satisfy the palate. The beneficial qualities of this drink and its economical cost make it most desirable. 2

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

One year from to-day will mark the 250th anniversary of the arrival in Quebec of the Marquis de Tracy, who was the first direct representative of the Most Christian King of France to be dispatched to New France. Prior to De Tracy's appointment as lieutenant-general, French America had been governed by trading companies. The St. Malo company of 1599 was succeeded by Champlain and De Months four years later. Just three centuries ago Champlain organized the Rouen company, and the rival De Caen appeared on the scene in 1620. From 1627 to 1665, when New France was made a part of the royal domain, it was ruled largely by the Company of the Hundred Associates. De Tracy was infirm and literally on "his last legs" when he reached New France, but his spirt was youthful, and although he had to be carried he led the Carignan regiment, the first body of regular soldiery in Canada, against the turbulent Iroquois. In De Tracy's time North America was more French than English, and the shadowy sovereignty of the Most Christian King extended not only to New France proper and Acadia, but included the larger part of what is now the state of Maine, parts of New York and Vermont, and the whole valley of the Mississippi, out of which many of the most prosperous states of the Union have since been carved. The major portion of the Hudson's Bay country was also claimed by the French. British rule was confined to a narrow stretch along the Atlantic seaboard, and even New York had pust been wrested from the Dutch. To the observer of that period it must have seemed that the whole continent was destined to French domination—and yet within a century of De Tracy's arrival De Vaudreuil, the last governor-general of New France, surrendered the entire country to Britain.

FIRST THINGS

Oklahoma had its beginning eighty years ago to-day when Indian Territory was formed as a permanent home for the redskins. The Cherokees were removed to the future prosperous state in 1835, and were soon followed by the Choctaws, Creeks, Chickasaws and Seminoles. These constituted the five civilized tribes who laid the foundation for the prosperity of the Oklahoma of the future, and many of their descendants have become wealthy and influential citizens. The territory was included in the Louisiana purchase of 1803, but the Indians were the first permanent settlers. In addition to the "five civilized tribes," other Indians, including Sacs, Foxes, Comanches, Modocs, Nez-Perces, and smaller tribes, were given lands in the territory. In 1866 the Creeks ceded the western part of their territory, and the Seminoles all of theirs, to the United States, and these were incorporated with No Man's Land into the territory of Oklahoma a quarter of a century ago. Indian Territory maintained a separate government under its original form until 1906, when it was incorporated with Oklahoma and admitted as a state of the union.

Hereditary titles are relics of the past, and are very much out of place in a democratic country. They serve to accentuate class distinctions, and are the main cause of that unfathomable snobbishness, sycophancy, and flunkeyism which are a marked and undesirable feature of British social life.—Mr. Ponsonby, M. HUMAN PROCESSION

Dr. Gen. Leonidas Plaza, who is, or was, president of Republica del Ecuador, was born fifty-seven years ago to-day, and has long been active in the political affairs of the South American republic. Whether Gen. Plaza is or was, in relation to the presidency of his native land, is a matter for the latest cables from the front to determine, and not to be dealt with by the leisurely writer of biographical sketches. Although the Ecuadorean executive—or ex-executive—has attained a high rank among Latin-American statesmen, his influence has not been sufficient to quell the turbulent rebels who have been turning Ecuador inside out and upside down for well over two years. Like Mexico, Peru, Haiti, Dominica, Venezuela and other Latin lands, Ecuador has its problems which are apparently incapable of solution by peaceful methods, and must needs be referred to the arbitrament of arms.

Gen. Plaza first attained international fame when he was elected president of Ecuador for the first time in 1900. He served his full term of four years, for the republic was then quiet and orderly and gave promise of having outgrown its revolutionary tendencies. After leaving the presidential palace at Quito, Gen. Plaza was sent to Washington as Ecuadorion minister to the United States. After quitting that post he returned to Ecuador, where he lived in comparative obscurity until the death of President Emilio Estrada, in 1911, and the contentions of would-be successors, brought him again into the limelight.

As in the case of the overthrow and death of Madero in Mexico, the officers of the army were responsible for the subsequent bloody affairs which disgraced Ecuador in the eyes of the civilized world. Gen. Pedro Montero was made president by a military coup, and immediately began to play the role of dictator and tyrant. After a month of despotic rule Montero was captured by a Guayaquil mob and dragged through streets lined with the jeering populace. He was shot full of holes, and then, as an additional precaution, he was beheaded. After that, just to make sure than he was dead, the citizens burned the body.

That should have been enough to discourage further attempts at setting up a military dictatorship, and the public lynching of five of Montero's advisers was also calculated to discourage such ambitions. A few months later, however, Gen. Julio Andrade, military commander of Guayaquil, entertained an idea that he could succeed where Montero had failed, and proclaimed himself president. He, also, is quite dead.

After that most of the rebellious soldiers took to the hills, and an election was held, following a heated campaign in which the Liberal party was split into two divisions. Gen. Plaza was the candidate of one section of the Liberals, and was elected. He was inaugurated on August 31, 1912, and for a little time there was peace in Ecuador.

The latest revolution was started last year by Gen. Carlos Concha, who has had as an ally a Colombian soldier, General Jorge Martinez. On December 15 last the city of Esmeraldas, capital of a province, fell into the hands of the rebels, but it was recaptured by the Plaza forces in February last. Gen. Plaza personally headed the army sent against the rebels. The government press of Ecuador described Concha as a "bandit," and as the leader of a band of outlaws, but that the situation was serious was recently recognized by the Ecuadorean council of state in authorizing the executice to adopt extraordinary measures.

Hopeless people should be painlessly removed. The question is not so much what criminals have done as what we feel compelled to do with them. It is not a matter of blame, but of expediency; we do not blame a dog for having hydrophobia, but we destroy it as a common danger.—George Ives.

SCRAP BOOK

Festival of St. Paul, the Patron of Anti-Suffragists

If the anti-suffragists want a patron saint—and there are indications that they stand in need of one—they could not do better than to choose as their protector the apostle Paul. That holy and inspired Jew will be honored to-day throughout the Christian world, the last day of June having been chosen as the festival of the tent-maker who became a persecutor of Christians, and afterward a devoted disciple of the new faith, who devoted himself to preaching "the unsearchable riches of Christ."

Is St. Paul was not the author of the phrase, "A woman's place is in the home," he at least gave frequent expression to the idea. He constantly preached the subjection of women to their husbands, and advised wives who thirsted for knowledge to consult those oracular authorities, their husbands. He emphasized the superiority of the masculine intellect, and, if he admitted that women have souls, he assuredly did not believe that they possessed much if any mind. Paul's ideal husband was literally a lord and master, and unquestioned obedience was his right. He warned the ladies to keep silent in the churches. Meekness and humility were among the virtues of the fair sex most admired by Paul. For many centuries Christendom accepted his estimate of the feminine intellect—of lack of it—and it was not until the last century that women were admitted to the pulpit. What a sad spectacle would be afforded St. Paul if he could return to earth to-day and hear clergywomen expounding his epistles, and to see the inferior sex exalted to the position of being the principal prop and support of the church of which he was one of the founders.

St. Paul's views regarding womankind have quite naturally made the Hebrew of Tarsus an object of scorn and derision to the suffragists. With great gusto the "vote-for-women" crusaders quote a description, from Christian sources, of Paul's personality—"a man small in stature, bald-headed, bow-legged, stout, close-browed, with a slightly prominent nose"; and they neglect to quote the remainder of the pen-picture—"for at one time he seemed like a man, at another time he had the face of an angel."

St. Paul looked upon marriage somewhat in the light of a necessary evil. Whether he himself ever married or not is a question which has been disputed from very early times. Tertullian and others have held that he was a life-long bachelor, but Origen, Clement of Alexandria, and others, are inclined to the belief that he was once a benedict, but became a widower.

St. Paul's fourteen epistles in the New Testament constitute a memorial which will preserve his name and fame as long as Christianity endures. He has many other monuments, however, as thousands of churches, including the world-famous cathedral in London, bear his name. The Minnesota capital derived its name from a little frontier church built on the site of the future city by Father Gaultier, a French-Canadian priest, in 1841.

German men of letters will celebrate to-day the centenary of the birth of Franz von Dingelstedt, the poet and theatrical director. He was born at Halsdorf on June 30, 1814. Some of the products of his muse are still popular in Germany, but they are little known to the English-speaking reading public. Dingelstedt died in 1881 at Vienna, where for many years he had been director of the Imperial and Hofburg theatres.

Skin Trouble on the Scalp

Skin Dried and Cracked and Hair Fell Out—Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Eczema is annoying and distressing at any time, but doubly so when it gets into the scalp and causes the hair to fall out. Here is a grateful letter from a lady who was cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. Hector Currie, Tobermory, Ont., writes: "I was cured of a disagreeable skin disease of the scalp by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. The trouble started with itching and pain in the scalp, the skin would get dry and crack, and at times would bleed, and the hair would fall out. I tried three doctors without benefit, and suffered for three years. Reading in the almanac about Dr. Chase's Ointment, I began its use, and am now completely cured. The hair has grown again, and I am as well as I ever was. You are at liberty to use this letter, for I am glad to recommend so excellent a treatment."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has no rival as a cure for itching skin disease.

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times Office not later than the day before the day of publication. When received later they will be held over until the following day.

While unobjectionable anonymous communications will be published, the name and address of every writer of such letters must be given to the editor.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor,—Would you kindly say to the many readers throughout this district that the man who fell into the water at Cowichan Gap and was rescued by the Japanese fishermen was not Frank T. Allison, the light-keeper. The above report was made for pure malice and the Maple Bay fish man knew this when he stated it at Cowichan.

LOZIER

Here's How One Man Bought a Lozier Four

In two sentences. About the quickest sale on record we believe.

Entering the salesroom of the Lozier Distributor in Columbus, Ohio, a prominent citizen of that place approached the manager, Mr. Glenn—the latter a man of his own social and commercial standing and one in whose word he had, therefore, complete confidence—exclaimed:

"That Lozier Four, I have heard so much about—is it an honest-to-God Lozier, Will?"

"Absolutely," replied the dealer. "It is a true Lozier in every detail. Designed by the same engineer, made of the same materials. Finished and equipped with Lozier quality throughout.

"How soon can you deliver me one?" he asked—and the sale was made.

Now there had been just one question—you couldn't call it a doubt, for he had owned a Lozier for years. That question was, could it be possible to produce a true Lozier car and sell it for $3000.

Answer is, it is possible—in a four cylinder car. A six costs more—the Lozier Six is $4500.

In case that same question has been hanging in your mind, we answer it by saying it is just a matter of which price you want to pay.

In either case—whether the Lozier you elect to own be the six or the four—you receive a true Lozier—backed to that extent by the Lozier guarantee

A phone call will bring a demonstrator of either type—or both—at your convenience.

TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS

In order to render the best possible service, we request city subscribers to immediately phone or write The Times Circulation Department in all cases of non-delivery or bad delivery of paper on the part of any carrier.

Do not pay any collector without obtaining printed receipt, which please keep. This may save trouble in future.

If, for any reason, you wish us to stop delivering the paper, you will help considerably by notifying the office instead of the carrier, who is liable to forget.

Especially to those subscribers whose residences are some distance from the sidewalk we recommend the use of a metal newspaper holder, to be obtained from our Circulation Department for the small sum of 35c. Easily affixed and a boon during the winter months.

DOMINION'S BIRTHDAY TO BE WELL OBSERVED

Many Picnics and Excursions Fixed for To-morrow; Sports, Games and Regatta

Queen's weather is promised for the national holiday to-morrow, and all Canadians resident in this part of the Dominion will have every inducement of clear skies and warm sunshine to observe the birthday of their country.

It does not look as if many people would be left in the city during the daylight hours, to judge from the list of picnics and attractions which are offered for the enjoyment and amusement of Victorians outside the limits.

As in former years the Sunday schools, with very few exceptions, have their annual outing on this day. The united Methodist schools will journey out to Metchosin, where the day will be spent in the usual way. Wesley Methodist school will picnic at Esquimalt harbor. St. Andrew's Presbyterian school goes to Mayne island, traveling by the Princess Maquinna. With them will go the Fifth Troop, Boy Scouts. St. Columba Presbyterian school excursion is to Beaver Lake, Erskine church school to the Gorge, and St. Paul's Presbyterian school to the Willows beach. The United Roman Catholic societies and St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday school will go to the Uplands. The First Congregational school will go to Royal Oak.

There are a number of society picnics to be held. The Devonians have selected beautiful Goldstream as the scene of theirs, and the Cymrodorions will have an outing to Oak Bay.

Scots will naturally find their way to the agricultural fair grounds, where the annual sports of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society will be held. A long and interesting programme is arranged for the occasion, including all the Scottish sports and games, and in each there is a large entry list, giving promise of spirited competition. The games begin at 1.30.

At the Oak Bay track the V. A. A. A. will hold its field and track sports, and there, too, some good events will be run off. The annual Dominion Day regatta will be held at Cowichan Bay, to which a special steamer will be run by the C. P. R.

A sham battle will take place between units of the 50th Regiment in the vicinity of Happy Valley. Orders will be posted to-night indicating the nature of the engagement.

ESQUIMALT TO HAVE VOLUNTEER BRIGADE

Councilor Mesher Will Organize Body; Write to E. & N. Railway

Reeve Saunders reported to the Esquimalt council last evening that the fire wardens of Victoria had refused to permit the city fire department to render any assistance to Esquimalt. Chief Davis had declared that it would disorganize his whole system for the protection of the city in case the Victoria West department should be in Esquimalt during a fire in Victoria West.

The chief had offered some advice, however. He had recommended the purchase of a couple of hose reels with 600 feet of hose on each. He had expressed his willingness to train the volunteer brigade in the art of fire-fighting and said that the hose-drying equipment in the city would be at the disposal of the Esquimalt department, in order that the latter might preserve its hose.

Councilor Mesher announced that he would organize a volunteer brigade in the village and the whole matter was taken up in committee.

Councilor McAdam suggested that the council should write to the E. & N. railway and inquire why nothing had been done in six months to obey the order of the Dominion railway board that a siding be constructed at Admiral's road. The suggestion was adopted.

Notice was received from the Forest board that henceforth the municipality would be held responsible for any fires in its limit and the protection of the government was withdrawn.

A petition for more lights at the south end of Constance avenue was referred to the light committee and the request will probably be complied with.

At the committee meeting which preceded the council meeting, a communication was received from the Voters' league. It asked that the councilors attend a meeting of the league at which the question of employment on the sewer contracts being carried out in the municipality would be discussed. Friday evening was suggested as the time of the gathering.

The councilors decided that they would be glad to receive a deputation, of probably six, from the league at the next committee meeting next Monday evening, but that they would not attend a meeting of the league.

This morning Reeve Saunders wrote to the league, embodying this decision in his letter and suggesting that a deputation attend the council committee meeting if the members of the league wished to express any views.

ARGUES DOMINION HAS FULL POWER

W. B. A. Ritchie, K. C., Holds Parliament May Make Immigration Laws for Any Part

MUNSHI SINGH CASE PROCEEDS IN COURT

J. E. Bird Claims Regulations May Not Be Extra-Territorial in Effect

"If Canada has the power to exclude a race of British subjects as such, then the new parliament of Ireland, being endowed with powers similar to those of Canada, can exclude any race whether British subjects or not. They can exclude Anglo-Saxons, for instance."

This was one of the arguments made by J. Edward Bird yesterday afternoon in seeking from the court of appeal a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Munshi Singh, a passenger on the Komagata Maru, who has been refused admission to Canada by the immigration department's board of inquiry. Mr. Bird attacked the constitutionality of the immigration act itself, declaring that extra-territorial legislation was beyond the parliament of Canada and going back as far as Magna Charta to show that a British subject might not be imprisoned or exiled unless guilty of a crime.

"The Canadian parliament exercises its authority under the B. N. A. Act. There is an express clause which declares that as between the Dominion and the provinces the parliament of Canada has legislative authority on all matters pertaining to aliens and naturalization.

"If it possesses power to expel British subjects residing in other parts of the king's dominions it must be under this authority to legislate with respect to immigration, or by virtue of general power to make laws for the peace, order and government of Canada. When, therefore, power is given to the parliament of Canada it does not mean for the land comprised in Canada, because the king's political authority is not a right of ownership. The authority is not over the land but over that portion of his subjects who reside in Canada, identified by the fact that they do reside there.

"This view excludes the idea that laws passed for Canada can be extra territorial whenever they affect the subjects of the king residing beyond the limits of Canada. The sovereignty of the Canadian government must be regarded complete affecting aliens, limited only by the right of the imperial government to disallow a Canadian act; but when the issue is between the Canadian people or government and British subjects residing outside of Canada, the powers of the Canadian parliament are limited by the powers granted to other authorities in the empire, and if none have been granted, by the paramount authority of the sovereign himself.

"If, therefore, a Canadian act assumes to control the act of British subjects outside of Canada, such as dictating to them and penalizing them for making a journey by other than a continuous voyage, this legislation should be declared void as extra-territorial, as trying to control their actions while outside the territorial limits of Canada. And whenever the parliament of Canada attempts to deprive a British subject residing in some other British country of a right belonging to him by law of nature and of which it is impossible for him to divest himself, such a law should be declared ultra vires, as encroaching upon the rights existing, as allegiance itself exists, by the law of nature, and which the sovereign to which allegiance is due is bound to protect.

"Such legislation is attempted under section 23 of the act where even an attempt is made to deprive the immigrant or passenger of the right to appeal to his sovereign through the representatives of the king, the judges of the supreme court.

"To impose in Canada on a British subject a penalty for belonging to a particular race should be held illegal and transcending the powers of the Dominion parliament."

A defect of the Immigration act was that it made it a crime punishable by deportation to be a British subject of Asiatic race, the only exception being if he had $200. The act was bad because it affected to prefer Japanese and Chinese to British subjects.

Another objection taken to the orders-in-council was that the Dominion government's powers in the matter of immigration legislation had been exercised only as to the Dominion as a whole. In the order-in-council prohibiting the entry of artisans British Columbia had been the only province specified, and such an action by the governor-general-in-council was outside the powers conferred by the act.

A point raised by Mr. Bird was that Asiatic race was a term which could not be defined. Ninety-nine per cent. of the applicants for admission to Canada were of Asiatic race. He discussed ethnology to show that Hindus were Caucasians of the same race as the Anglo-Saxons, and argued that the meaning of the word race was clearly limited to the five great branches of humanity. Anglo-Saxons were not a race, Hindus were not a race, Asiatics were not a race, but Caucasians were a race, and were to be found in both Europe and Asia.

Mr. Justice Galliher expressed the opinion that the court would have to take the term Asiatic race as it was meant by the legislators, and he thought they had used it in the popular sense.

An interested spectator at the hearing yesterday afternoon was Frank Curran, government counsel at the sealing commission. Mr. Curran is the immigration department's solicitor at Montreal, and hastened to the court immediately on his arrival in the city in order to hear this important case argued.

Inasmuch as it is specially provided that officers of His Majesty's military and naval forces and their wives and families are not to be considered as immigrants on applying for admission to Canada W. B. A. Ritchie, K. C., senior counsel for the department of immigration in the Komagata Maru case before the court of appeal, argued this morning that it was thereby assumed that British subjects were to be considered as immigrants. The same section stated that on retiring from their functions as naval and military officers these classes were to be considered subject to the clauses of the Immigration act. If nowhere else was it made clear that Canada had the right to exclude British subjects of other dominions, here at any rate was a clear proof that the Dominion was given such power.

This morning's session was taken up with the conclusion of J. E. Bird's argument in behalf of Munshi Singh's application for a writ of habeas corpus, and the opening of the case for the department of immigration by W. B. A. Ritchie, K. C. There was once more a large attendance in the court room, and intense interest was shown by all present in spite of the highly technical nature of the debate. No fewer than 71 volumes from the law library were spread upon the lawyers' tables for reference purposes during the argument.

Court resumed this morning with J. E. Bird on his feet. He maintained that inasmuch as Munshi Singh came direct from Hongkong, a British possession, he had come by continuous voyage from the country of which he was a native citizen. He maintained that citizenship was of the empire as a whole. In the section the words "of which he is a native or naturalized citizen" were used, and "native," he contended, was an adjective or there would have been a repetition of the article before "naturalized."

He pointed out several instances of grammatical looseness in the statute. Legislation capable of being seriously misunderstood should not be construed so as to interfere with the liberty of the subject, for the subjects of his majesty in England were just as dear to the sovereign as his subjects in Canada.

Contending that even an alien was entitled to the civil rights of life and liberty conferred by the constitution immediately he came within the three-mile limit, Mr. Bird argued that the Immigration act had exceeded the powers of the Dominion parliament. The preservation of civil rights was vested in the provinces by the British North America act and, inasmuch as the Dominion purported to take away this man's liberty and deport him, the legislation to that end was ultra vires and void. Liberty was a civil right in the guard of the province.

Mr. Bird's concluding argument was that the court, as the direct representative of the sovereign, had a higher function than any legislature to consider the effect of legislation in regard to its possibility of bringing about war or rebellion.

Chief Justice Macdonald expressed the opinion that the court could only read the law, not make it, and he did not think this phase could properly come before it.

In opening his case W. B. A. Ritchie, K. C., took up the question of ultra vires. He argued that the Dominion had the power to make immigration laws respecting the whole Dominion or any part thereof. The province's act passed some years ago had been declared ultra vires in the Naran Singh case as the Dominion had already covered the same ground.

Furthermore in giving the Dominion the power to regulate immigration the imperial legislation had given the Dominion the power to deal with immigration from all parts of the empire, for where alien immigration was meant it was referred to in terms.

Mr. Bird's argument respecting the provincial custody of the liberty of the subject was replied to by the quoting of many authorities to show that where the question of liberty was dealt with in Dominion statutes in an incidental manner there was no ultra vires as it would be impossible for the Dominion parliament to legislate at all if it might not indirectly affect the civil rights of the citizen. In refusing permission to land the government was not interfering with a civil right as before an individual landed he was not within the territory.

Where certain orders-in-council appeared to exceed the powers given in clauses of the Immigration act, Mr. Ritchie contended they were legalized by section 81, the general section of the act, which gave power to the governor-general-in-council to make any regulations necessary to enforce the law. Robert Cassidy, K.C., senior conusel for the applicant, remarked, and the chief justice endorsed the opinion, that this was merely a clause dealing with enforcement of the act, not for making further regulations.

Construction of section 23 was specially asked by Mr. Ritchie because of the other cases which would arise from the same ship. This is the clause that deals with the limitation of the power of appeal from the immigration department's board of inquiry. Mr. Ritchie argued that so long as the board had jurisdiction over the matter in hand there could be no interference by the courts no matter of what nature the evidence was.

Mr. Justice Martin acquiesced, saying that if the proceedings were begun in accordance with the act by a properly constituted board, there could be no review of the result or the proceedings themselves. The chief justice stated that there were many other instances in which there was no appeal from courts of limited jurisdiction and the present condition was no anomaly.

Referring to the question of the finding, Mr. Ritchie cited an eminent authority to the effect that it was a wild conceit that mere swearing bound a court; it was swearing credibly that counted. He thought this exceedingly applicable to the case of a man who with $30 in his pocket swore he was going to buy a farm in British Columbia.

In dealing with the requirement that Asiatic immigrants must have $200 before being given permission to land, Mr. Ritchie pointed out a fallacy in Mr. Cassidy's argument that this was only in cases of special permits where the applicant could not otherwise be admitted. "Land" had a specific meaning defined in the interpretation clauses. It meant the lawful admission by the immigration department. The special permit clause did not use the word "land," but said "enter Canada." Hence he deduced that the possession of $200 was a necessary requirement of all Asiatics.

In dealing with the question of discrimination as raised by Mr. Cassidy yesterday, counsel for the department contended that the word "and" between "immigrants" and "tourists" could be read as "or." This was a common rule in the interpretation of statutes, and he recited an English case with a "home for sick and maimed soldiers." The home was not only for those who were both sick and maimed, but for either.

Mr. Ritchie again held the floor at this afternoon's session.

ALL IN READINESS FOR BIG JULY SALES

Merchants' Combined Efforts Will Attract Victoria and Island Shoppers

A glance at the pages of the Times to-day will serve to indicate the nature and wide range of bargains that will be obtainable in Victoria during the days from July 2 to July 11. In both quantity and variety the offerings of the merchants will far surpass the efforts of the recent "dollar day" which was such a success in this city, and all other events of a bargain nature held in past years.

All that the merchants desire now is fine weather for the sales' days, as all other preparations have been made. They confidently look for an unprecedented influx of Vancouver Island residents who wish to take advantage of the combined sales. For days past the merchants have been busily engaged in arranging the goods and price lists which will greet the shoppers' eyes on the morning of July 2.

Hitherto the various stores in Victoria have consulted only their own wishes in arranging their annual July sales, but this year, acting on the suggestion which was brought forth by the success of Dollar Day, they decided to combine in an effort to meet all the wishes of July bargain-hunters in one week. Dry goods houses, shoe stores, clothing stores, and even furniture stores, which formerly waited until August for their summer sales, have united in the effort to make sales' week the most outstanding event in the shopping history of Victoria. Given the balmy weather which the Gonzales hill weather expert has promised for the next few days, it is now assured that the crowds visiting the city between July 2 and July 11 will give the streets almost a holiday appearance.

Some of the merchants have already given a wise bit of advice to their patrons. This is to the effect that it would be well for Victoria shoppers to be on hand at the stores as early as possible. In doing this they will avoid the great numbers of residents from Island points who will visit the city, and will also have a better choice of goods, to say nothing of finding the clerks more free to meet their desires.

HOUSEHOLD LEAGUE.

Mrs. G. L. Foulkes Elected President at First Meeting.

After weeks of preparation a household league has at last been organized in Victoria. The special meeting for the purpose was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. rest rooms, the large gathering of ladies showing how industriously the promoters have been canvassing the city since the idea was first mooted, and the widespread interest and sympathy of the housewives of Victoria in the lessening of the cost of living being evinced by the large enrolment of nearly 100 members at the close of the meeting. Mrs. R. S. Day presided. Mrs. G. L. Foulges, Mrs. Hanington, Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. J. D. Gordon spoke.

Officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, Lady McBride; president, Mrs. G. L. Foulkes; first vice-president, Mrs. Hanington; second vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Young; secretary, Mrs. Wm. Holmes; treasurer, Mrs. Cancellor. A committee of 12 was also conditionally appointed as follows: Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Justin Gilbert, Mrs. Hutchinson (Royal Oak), Mrs. Graves, Mrs. Gavin Burns, Mrs. Lovekin, Mrs. McPhillips, Mrs. Currie (Royal Oak), Mrs. Cookson, and Mrs. Dennis Harris.

WILL BE DOUBLE EVENT

Vote on Bridge By-law and By-election Will Be Held on Same Day to Save Expense.

In order to avoid the expense of double polling which would occur through holding at different dates the by-election to fill Alderman Cuthbert's seat and the voting on the Johnson street bridge by-law, it is expected that arrangements will be made for the two pollings to be carried through simultaneously. The bodies of voters will be slightly different, but as most of the electors are also entitled to vote on money by-laws, it will in the end be a convenience and will save a considerable amount of money to the city. It is not certain yet whether a petition will have to be circulated praying for the submission of the by-law.

The law requires a seat on the council to be declared vacant by resolution, and the returning officer shall within ten days of the passage of the resolution call a nomination day, the polling following closely afterwards. Alderman Cuthbert's retirement will so coincide with the submission of the bylaw that the two votings can readily be adjusted to fall on the same date. No other by-laws will be put forward at this time, although two or three schemes are being urged. However, as the city has not sold the debentures issued under the Hospital by-law for the Royal Jubilee hospital, it is not anxious to add to the existing obligations.

No meetings of the city council or committees will be held before Friday, as the intervening holiday breaks up the week. There was a meeting this afternoon in connection with the iron ore resources of Vancouver Island, called under civic auspices, with Mayor Stewart in the chair. A paper by William Blakemore and data on the possibilities of development, were part of the programme.

PREPARING FOR CROWDS

Three Thousand Visitors Expected Here for Provincial Celebration of Orange Anniversary.

The local committee of Orangemen which is charged with the making of arrangements for the provincial celebration of the Twelfth of July in this city has practically concluded these, and the indications are for a very successful celebration.

The steamship Princess Charlotte has been chartered to bring over the Vancouver and mainland contingent. She will make a special trip on the morning of July 11 and is due here about noon. On the E. & N. railway there will be a special train on the same morning, reaching here shortly before the regular train at noon and stopping at all the stations on the way down. For the Saanich peninsula no special arrangement will be made, as the members there will have every facility to get into the city in any case.

It is expected that there will be some three thousand Orangemen in line when the procession moves off for Beacon Hill park, where the speaking will take place. All the local bands have been engaged and there will be several bands over from the mainland, so that there will be no lack of music to inspire the marchers.

At the park Mayor Stewart will welcome the visitors. The speakers who will address the gathering are Rev. Mr. Cooke, Vancouver, and H. H. Stevens, M.P. for that city.

The committee which is making the arrangements consists of the masters of the lodges in Vancouver Island district, No. 2, these being Leonard Tait, district master; B. F. Lefevre, L.O.L., 1426; J. C. Scott, L.O.L., 1610; W. Bletch, Sir George White lodge, No. 2374; E. Mitchell, Sir Charles Beresford lodge, No. 2407; W. C. Warren, district secretary, who is secretary of the committee.

PLUTOCRATIC GOLFERS.

Chicago has started a golf club, limited to 150 members, with £45,000 in the treasury, derived from entrance fees fixed at £300 each. Within twenty minutes after the plan establishing the most expensive golf club in America had been discussed, the £45,000 was paid. The club opens on June 16, and soon afterwards there will spring, mushroom-like, upon a birch farm near Fort Sheridan, a palatial clubhouse costing £20,000.

Amongst the founders of the club are several of Chicago's beef and pork magnates and other notable millionaires. More than 6,000 trees and as many stumps have been removed from the 160-acre tract. Mr. H. S. Colt, of England, has laid out the course, which is 6,420 yards long.

MUCH BETTER FEELING IN EXCHANGE CIRCLES

Buying and Short Covering Advanced List Into New Ground

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

New York, June 30.—The list went into new ground and there was some buying snap to prices which induced the short element to cover to some extent.

Particularly was Southern Pacific strong, the stock being absorbed on a large scale for investment and the floating supply thereby reduced.

Despite contrary talk, it is stated that the interstate commerce commission intends handing down a decision in the rate matters within a few days.

A re-awakening of public interest in the stock market has made itself felt the past day or so, which would appear largely on the expectancy of the atmosphere being cleared with reference to the aforesaid decision.

INDICATED WHEAT YIELD ONE BILLION BUSHELS

Chicago, June 30.—A few bullish features were noted during the session, but they had little more than a steadying effect on the trade up to the last hour. Kansas City reported offerings lighter because of wet weather in that territory. The northwest has too much rain, and Minneapolis houses were sending reports about flooded fields, but prices northwest and southwest were sharply lower. The Snow report indicating 657,000,000 bushels, winter wheat 279,000,000 bushels, spring had no special market effect. Sharp action in wheat prices was the order of the morning, and the tendency was much the same as on previous days with unusual selling pressure in the July at the outset on the part of elevator interests with large country acceptances of wheat over night. Naturally there was some improvement in the tone of the trade the last hour with a rally of about ½ cent all around from low.

PITT MEADOWS STOCK AGAIN FREELY SOLD

Bidding for Athabasca Brisk but Fluctuating Area of Oil List Narrow

There were some sales of Pitt Meadows Oil this morning at 50c. per share with offers at that price on the close. Strength pertained to Athabasca and bidding was brisk, although the price level was hardly as high as yesterday. Area of fluctuations was not wide in this department, however, and stimulus in the way of news was wanting.

Offers of International Coal were lower and bidding was absent. Granby was a point off, but later gained its 79 level. Other price changes were nominal in character.

GRAIN MARKET LOWER THROUGHOUT MORNING

Winnipeg, June 30.—The grain market was weak from the start this morning. Wheat opened ¼ to ⅜ lower, July oats ½ down, and flax options ⅜ to ½ lower for July and October months. Reports from American wheat centres were generally favorable, although in sections of the Northwest states rains have been excessive, and with Liverpool showing weak there was a decline in sympathy. At about noon July was down ¾, October ½, and December ⅜. Trading in futures was quiet, a light volume of business being transacted. Wheat closed unchanged to ⅜ lower. The cash demand was exceptionally quiet in all lines, buyers evidently holding off waiting developments, although exporters bought sparingly at low points.

Cash wheat closed ½ to ⅜ lower for contract grades, cash oats closed unchanged to ¼ lower, cash barley closed weaker, and cash flax was unchanged. The weather map shows beneficial rains have occurred in Manitoba and Saskatchewan at many points where they were wanted, and indications are that general rains are working eastward. At Cypress River and Broadview two inches were recorded. Inspections Monday numbered 585 cars, and in sight were 355.

VICTORIANS GOING TO FAR EAST ON AKI

Nippon Liner Sailing With Big Passenger List; Large Cargo of Freight

Several well known Victorians are leaving here this afternoon on board the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Aki Maru, Capt. Noma, for points in the Far East. George Meldram and Arthur Vaughan have booked passage to Kobe, Japan, and Mrs. M. Douglas, accompanied by her son, is going to Hongkong. They are all traveling first-class and are simply on pleasure jaunts and will return to Victoria in the near future. Another saloon traveler to embark here is Mrs. L. C. Chu, a Chinese young woman who has been at Wellesley college, Mass., receiving an education.

The Aki Maru is taking out a full cargo of general merchandise. Sound stevedores have been busy during the past two weeks discharging her inward cargo of 3,000 tons and stowing about 8,000 tons of freight in her holds for the outward passage to Yokohama, Shanghai, Manila and Hongkong. She is carrying lumber, fish, machinery, farming implements, flour, wheat, and heavy shipments of general merchandise.

Full Passenger List.

When the Victoria passengers embark all the saloon accommodation on the Aki Maru will be taken. She has been sold out. Travel to the Orient at the present time is very heavy and the Nippon line is receiving many applications for tickets. If the present demand keeps up it is expected that some of the applicants will have to be refused.

Thirty steerage passengers will join the steamship at this port. A number embarked at Seattle. The third-class quarters will be well filled.

RING MYSTERY SOLVED

Jewelry Lost Here Traced to Spokane; Victorian Arrested Charged With Retaining Stolen Property.

Andrew Palmer was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Murray and Macdonald and this morning he appeared in the police court on a charge of retaining in his possession, knowing them to have been stolen, two hoop rings belonging to Mrs. Gertrude McAdam. One ring is set with three diamonds and two pearls and the other with three diamonds and two sapphires.

Palmer chose a summary trial and pleaded not guilty. He told the magistrate that it was immaterial to him who tried him.

On application of City Prosecutor Harrison a remand until Friday was granted, when the evidence of Mrs. McAdam will be heard and then another remand will be asked for for the purpose of getting evidence on commission in Spokane.

These and other rings were lost by Mrs. McAdam while she was attending a performance in the Empress theatre on May 13, 1913. She had given them to a friend who was with her to keep for her, but when they came out the rings were missing. There were five in all and they were worth about $2,500. The police were notified and the theatre searched, but no trace of the lost property could be found.

An advertisement was inserted in the papers offering a liberal reward, but no result was obtained from this for several months, when a man named Sage wrote from Spokane offering, for a very large reward, to give information as to the rings. The police here got in touch with the Spokane authorities, and an interview with Sage followed. He said the rings were in the possession of another man named Fennion, who was then arrested for bringing stolen property into the United States and is now awaiting trial.

In giving evidence on his own behalf Fennion claimed that he had sold some of the rings to Palmer. The latter was sought for here, but had gone east and did not return until a couple of days ago. Fennion's story was that he had found the rings in the theatre and had kept them until he sold two to Palmer in December just before he left Victoria. He knew the rings were the property of Mrs. McAdam, having seen the advertisement in the papers here.

CONVENTION CALLED

B. C. Federation of Labor Will Gather to Discuss Strike Situation.

As a result of a special meeting of the executive of the B. C. Federation of Labor, the federation has decided to call a special convention to consider the miners' strike on Vancouver Island. The decision has been hastened by a request from the members of District 28 of the United Mine Workers of America. The meeting will start at 9 a. m. on Monday week at the Labor Temple, Vancouver.

The local unionists will hold a meeting at the Variety theatre on Sunday, at which leaders from the strike zone will attend.

The convention call sets out the following reasons for this exceptional step: Non-enforcement of the Coal Mines' Regulation act by the provincial government; failure to reach a settlement on the proposed basis recently announced; unemployment in the coming winter and the Hillcrest disaster. The last item says:

"Miners who have served their terms of imprisonment are not being released, some of them who have served the term of their sentences still being held in prison. Premier McBride, as minister of mines, is responsible for the strike, it being his duty to enforce the laws relating to the regulation of coal mines, but he has so far refused to hold an inquiry into the situation. Attorney-General Bowser has, by his persecution of the miners, shown himself in his true position. It is necessary, therefore, for labor to take such steps as are necessary to remove not only McBride and Bowser, but the government of which they are the heads, from power."

Alleged Speeding.—J. Robinson was charged in police court to-day with exceeding the speed limit. Constable Gates, who was on point duty at the corner of Government and Yates streets at noon on Thursday last, described the speed of the car from the time he noticed it at Goodacre's corner as about 35 miles an hour. He signalled the driver to stop and the car skidded the width of Yates street after the brakes were applied. William Robinson, who was driving the car, swore he was not going over fifteen miles an hour. In order to secure the attendance of a witness to corroborate the constable a remand was granted until Thursday.

Hallock is Discharged.—The case against George Hallock, who was charged with breaking and entering the residence of W. J. Ketterman with intend, came before the police magistrate this morning on the fifth adjournment, but this time Mrs. Hallock was able to attend. Her story was a corroboration of that told by Hallock, which was that he was displeased with Ketterman and had gone down to see him and kicked his door in. The magistrate considered that there was no intent to steal shown and that Ketterman might have been mistaken about the money he alleged he had lost, or that someone else had taken it. He saw no reason to disbelieve the story of the wife and discharged the accused.

Building Permits.—Yesterday and to-day the building permits took an upward turn, with the result that when the figures for the month are tallied to-night a bigger figure will be shown than was anticipated. Charged as Vagrants.—A Chinese named Peter Gong came over from Vancouver yesterday morning with a white girl who gives her name as India Boucher. They came under the notice of the police, and last night both were arrested by Detectives Murray and Macdonald. The man was brought in soon after ten o'clock and the girl shortly before midnight. This morning both were charged with being vagrants, and through Frank Higgins, who had been retained for the defence, pleaded not guilty and asked for a remand until Thursday. This was allowed and bail being applied for was fixed in the sum of $100 cash in each case. Gong is known to the police of this city and Vancouver, and in the latter city he has served time. The girl says she is English-born and claims to have been educated in a convent there.

Saanich Waterworks Scheme.—The Saanich council is to meet again this evening, the waterworks scheme being the subject for discussion. The members are evenly divided as to the method of assessing the owners. One possible system may be to borrow on the whole credit of the municipality and assess the actual owners benefited.

MAJORITY FOR WHITNEY FIXED AT FIFTY-NINE

Many Congratulations Sent Premier of Ontario on Election Result.

Toronto, June 30.—Ontario election results changes are: W. McDonald, Liberal in North Bruce, majority 12. A. Sinclair, Conservative, defeated Colonel Mayberry in South Oxford by a majority of four. The Conservative majority in the house will be 59.

All last night and all to-day telegrams of congratulation poured in to the Parliament buildings and the home of Sir James Whitney, upon his return to power. The premier was particularly cheerful and elated over the results of yesterday's vote. To-day Sir James Whitney made the following statement:

"Again the people of Ontario have placed my colleagues and myself under a tremendous load of obligations to them. The acts and policy and the work done by the government have been justified and indeed as is well-known, they were hardly criticized by our opponents. The outstanding fact is that the people of the province of Ontario refused positively to be threatened and coerced by a few demagogic clergymen, who, anxious above all things for the success of Mr. Rowell, were not ashamed to make use of a question like the so-called temperance question as a scourge to drive us out of office and their friends into power."

BANK PAID $300,000.

Chicago, June 30.—The run on the North Avenue State bank ceased last night and there were fifty persons waiting their turns to-day to replace their deposits. During the run the bank paid out $300,000.

LEFT OVER $1,000,000.

Toronto, June 30.—The will of William Harris, of the Harris Abattoir Co., was probated to-day. He left over $1,000,000 to the widow, four sons and five daughters and a sister.

ALLEN PLAYERS GIVE 'A CONTENTED WOMAN'

Miss Verna Felton Seen in a Congenial Character; Given Excellent Support

Although it is fourteen years since Charles Hoyt passed away and he is well-nigh forgotten, his comedy, "A Contented Woman," still remains a favorite with stock companies and the public, and is by no means out-moded yet.

This is the play chosen by Miss Verna Felton and her fellow-players of the Allen company for presentation this week at the Royal Victoria theatre, and it is put on and interpreted in a manner that leaves nothing to be desired. Woman suffrage is the subject.

In the part of the contented wife, who is aroused into opposition to her husband's candidacy for mayor by hasty and reproving words from him, Miss Felton adds one more to her many admirable impersonations. It is, in fact, one of the best things she does and is at all points a carefully thought-out and thoroughly consistent character study. By little touches here and there she conveys the fact that at no time does the wife take her own candidature seriously, and when she wins she is overwhelmed with remorse for the disappointment of her worser half.

As may be understood, the comedy offers innumerable opportunities to her as to other members of the cast, and she lets none of them slip. A novel feature of the last two acts is the introduction of songs. Miss Felton herself has two in the last act, and shows herself almost as good a singer as she is an actress.

Norman R. Feusier was splendid as the husband, Irving Kennedy did well as his brother-in-law, Charles Connors had a colored servant part which he did well, and the other members of the cast were all that could be wished. Mrs. P. R. Allen made an excellent suffragette, and really looked the prosperous business man when she put on masculine attire in order to go to the polls. Biron Eagan was very good as the down-trodden husband, but the worm turned in the last act and the suffragette became a contented woman herself.

Miss Jean Patterson was deservedly encored for her songs in the third act. She possesses a sweet and a cultivated voice, and was heard to advantage in the two solos she gave. Arthur Kenck, Norman Pierce and William Mansfield, besides being a convincing trio of ward heelers, contributed to the musical innovation.

FINISH THIS SUMMER

Frank Curran Expects Sealing Commission to Complete Work in August.

Frank Curran, government counsel before the sealing commission, arrived in town yesterday with Mrs. Curran and will stay here probably all summer. They are at the Empress hotel.

Mr. Curran expects the commission to complete its work sometime during August, and he does not believe it will be necessary to return to the coast again. W. J. Taylor, K.C., of Victoria, will be senior counsel for the government in the Victoria Sealing company's case, which will be completed first. Sir Charles H. Tupper, K.C., has been in town several times lately preparing the case for the company in rebuttal of the evidence given by the government at the last session.

Mr. Justice Audette and the secretary of the commission will arrive on Thursday morning and the commission will sit at 10 o'clock on that day.

Real Wonder-Worker For Wrinkled Faces

Those who have tried all sorts of so-called "wrinkle-removers" in a vain effort to lose those unwelcome traces of age, illness or worry, can scarcely find words to express their delight with the wonderful saxolite formula, once they have given it a trial. The success of this method is due not alone to its marvelous effectiveness—upon the deepest lines and crow's-feet, as well as upon the very fine ones—but also to its surprisingly quick action and its entire harmlessness. Its simplicity and its inexpensiveness are other commendable features, for one needs only dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel, and bathe the face in this solution. At once a remarkable transformation is beheld.

It is not only the effect on wrinkles and creases that is so noticeable, but facial contour is remarkably improved and the face looks much younger. One should be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite. The lotion, being so refreshing, is particularly grateful to tired faces these warm, depressing days.

"How long has this restaurant been open?" asked the would-be diner. "Two years," said the proprietor. "I am sorry I did not know it," said the guest. "I should be better off if I had come here then." "Yes," smiled the proprietor, very much pleased. "How is that?" "I should probably have been served by this time if I had," said the guest, and the entente cordiale vanished.

The number of private motor-cars in this country now exceeds a quarter of a million. In America there are approximately a million and a quarter private motor-cars and 175,000 motor-cycles; in Germany the figures are 50,000 and 20,000; and in Italy 11,000 and 8,000.
